VOL. VIII. PITTSBURGH, TUESDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 17, 1871. NO. 331.

The Daily and Weekly Commercial—NEWSPAPER DECISIONS. 1. Any one who takes a paper regularly from the Postoffice—whether directed to his name or another's, or whether he has subscribed or not—is responsible for the payment.
2. If a person orders his paper discontinued, he must pay all arrearages, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
3. The courts have decided that refusing to take Newspapers or Periodicals from the Postoffice, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.
Remittances must be made in Money Orders, Bank Checks, or Drafts, if possible. When neither of these can be procured, send the money in a Registered Letter. The present Registration system is virtually an Absolute Protection Against Losses by mail, and all Postmasters are obliged to Register Letters whenever requested to do so.

FIRST EDITION.

THE MODERN PHŒNIX.

Thousands of Men at Work.

Preparations for Rebuilding the City.

NEW CONFIDENCE INSPIRED IN ALL.

Munificent Donations Coming In.

More About Insurance Companies.

CHICAGO, October 16.—There has been in the south division of the burnt district to-day. Thousands of men have been at work clearing away the debris and removing and putting up temporary buildings, etc. Every laboring man willing to work can find plenty to do at liberal wages. The action of the banks yesterday in unanimously resolving to open for business to-morrow, and to pay at once if called for every dollar due their depositors, and the promptness of the insurance companies in settling their losses has

INSPIRED RENEWED CONFIDENCE

Among our business men. All looks well for the future, so far as the future is within human control. There are many

SENSATIONAL AND EXAGGERATED REPORTS

Published through the press in other parts of the country, which have not the remotest foundation in truth. They were sent by special correspondence and not through the Associated press. One report is to the effect that the wooden pavements of this city were entirely consumed, and that they served largely toward feeding and extending the fire. Nothing could be farther from the truth. The wooden pavement all remain as laid down as firm as rocks and are scarcely scorched at all, and only in places where red brick and stone and iron fell upon them. They are at this moment nearly as good as ever, and are about the only thing that resisted successfully the fearful heat to which they were subjected. The reports as to

THE LOSS OF LIFE

Are greatly exaggerated. The number of dead bodies already discovered fall short of one hundred and twenty-five. A large number supposed lost are alive and well. This is true about Col. Stone and his wife, Miss Relgoom, Dr. Freer, David A. Gage, City Treasurer, and many others. There is an

ACTIVE FIGHT GOING ON IN THE BOARD OF TRADE

As to where it shall be located until their new edifice is rebuilt. It is now located in the west division, but a large number of the members favors its removal to Standard Hall, on Michigan avenue. This building is excellently adapted to the purpose, while the building now occupied is less convenient. A vote was taken by the Board to-day and a majority declared against removal, but it is claimed that the largest and most influential operators for its removal will probably result in a split in the Board, as the friends of the South Side have already organized and are ready to do business in Standard Hall.

LUNT, PRESTON AND KEON,

Private bankers, whose banking house was consumed, will commence business to-morrow. They are the agents of Jay Cooke & Co., in the negotiation of the Northern Pacific Railroad loans.

RUSH MEDICAL COLLEGE,

The buildings of which were destroyed, resumed its course to-day in the City Hospital. The students who left the city are returning, and lectures will continue through the winter as usual.

THE PRESBYTERIAN SEMINARY

And the Professor's residence in this city are all safe, and the original securities are believed to be good. Mr. McCormick, though one of the heaviest losers by the fire, meets promptly his new contribution, and the balance of the endowment would have been completed by others but for the fire. Some help to save this institution would be thankfully received.

The paper rulers of this city, almost to a man, have been

THROWN OUT OF EMPLOYMENT BY THE FIRE,

And nearly all have been rendered homeless. They therefore made an appeal to their brethren of the same craft throughout the country for aid. All contributions will be thankfully received, and faithfully distributed. They should be addressed to Charles H. Day, 256 West Wasington street, Chicago. William W. Wall is President.

THE HOUR OF SERIOUS SUFFERING PASSED.

CHICAGO, October 16.—The Relief Committee are doing their duty, and the hour for serious suffering is past. The contributions so liberally forwarded are faithfully distributed to the needy.

A LARGE NUMBER OF IMPOSTORS

were supplied with food and clothing at the start, but the relief organization is now so perfected that very little imposition can be practiced hereafter.

THE POSTOFFICE DEPARTMENT.

Col. Eastman, the postmaster, announces that the money order department of the Chicago postoffice is in operation, and is ready to pay all orders promptly. The postmaster in making deposits should remit National Bank drafts on New York, or send currency by registered letter.

THE POST OFFICE SAFE RECOVERED.

WASHINGTON, October 16.—A telegram was received at the Post Office Department to-day from the Postmaster at Chicago, stating that one of the Post office safes in that city had been reached and its contents found badly scorched. Thirty-five hundred dollars in money was recovered, and about $80,000 worth of postage stamps were in condition to be returned for exchange, although not fit to be used. The cashier's day-book and ledger were found to be in a condition to be used, but the cash-book was destroyed. The safe of the money-order department, and that of the stamped envelope clerk were yet in the ruins. The United States District Attorney of Chicago lost all his papers.

THANKS FROM CHICAGO.

The following telegram was received at eleven o'clock last night:

Hon. Jared M. Brush, Mayor:

In the name of the Chicago Aid and Relief Society we thank you for your generous contributions to our sufferers by fire. Your committee have been indefatigable in their efforts to serve us. God bless your noble people.

C. C. HULDEN,
Of Committee on Distribution of Food, and President of Common Council.

THE RELIEF FUND.

The London firm of Jay Cooke send a thousand pounds for Chicago. The Liverpool, London and Globe Insurance Company will pay all their losses in Chicago, amounting to near two and three-quarter millions, and subscribe ten thousand dollars to the relief fund.

Santa Fe, N. M., gives $800 to Chicago. Philadelphia churches gave $50,000 on Sunday. Many refugee families from the destroyed city are arriving there, and a station has been opened for them.

NEW YORK, October 16.—The meeting of Insurance Presidents to-day was attended by about fifty. Mr. Miller, State Superintendent of Insurance, addressed them, saying if any were compelled to go into liquidation he would do the best he could to protect the interests of the insurers and stockholders; but he wanted frank and candid statements of their condition. He thought the losses by Chicago would be but a small per centage to the citizens of this State. President Oakley stated that he just returned from Chicago, and considers the losses there underestimated. The Chicago companies could not pay more than ten or fifteen per cent. of all their liabilities. He stated that all the New York companies would pay their losses.

The proprietors of the Fifth Avenue Hotel, New York, have sent $5,000 in money and $2,000 worth of bedding, etc. Members of the New York bar have contributed $5,395. The Americans in London, Eng., have collected over $18,000. Clews, Habicht & Co., London, give $5,000. Frankfort, Germany, sends 20,000 florins. The Baltic Lloyd Steamship Company, Stetin, Prussia, sends $1,000 by cable. Michael Geary is arranging a billiard entertainment at the Academy of Music, New York, by which it is expected at least $5,000 will be raised for Chicago.

The Relief Committee of the Chamber of Commerce have received $50,000 since Saturday. The Cotton Exchange subscription now exceeds $16,000. Three thousand were subscribed at the Mechanics and Traders's Exchange. The police force fund amounts to $7,925. The Washington Market Relief Committee have raised $2,000.

Omaha has donated $20,000 for Chicago, and $1,000 for the sufferers in Wisconsin and Michigan.

The Individual contributions in Indianapolis amount to nearly $200,000, besides $5,000 in supplies, and $20,000 by the City Council.

The private subscriptions in Louisville for the Chicago sufferers yesterday amounted to $74,000.

B. McCauley and Charles Wyndham gave benefits yesterday afternoon at Wood's Theater, Cincinnati, for the Chicago sufferers. Madame Rive and other home artistes gave a benefit last night.

Fifteen hundred blankets and a number of tents were forwarded from Quebec yesterday.

The amount contributed by Leavenworth foots up $25,000, and is being increased daily.

The total amount raised by Brooklyn for Chicago to date amounts to $121,000. St. Johns contributes $6,000. The Albany subscriptions will reach $40,000.

The cash contributions in the District of Columbia amount to $157,000.

The Odd Fellows of Worcester, Mass., yesterday raised $500 for the sufferers by the fires in Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin. Total subscriptions there, $36,000.

The Chicago relief fund at Hartford amounts to $30,000.

THE INSURANCE COMPANIES.

The receiver appointed for the Fulton Fire Insurance Company of Brooklyn, of which he is a stockholder, swears that he has become insolvent owing to the Chicago fire. The Phœnix Insurance Company of Brooklyn has adjusted its loss by the Chicago fire by a draft sent to Hart, Acton & Co. The Board of Directors of the Home Insurance Company to-day unanimously adopted a resolution to fill up the capital stock of two and a half millions at the earliest practicable moment. This will restore the Home's assets to nearly if not quite four millions, after every cent of the Chicago fire losses is paid.

The Manhattan Company, which has announced its suspension, expect to meet its losses.

The Continental have lost about a million, being much less than their surplus. They have doubled their capital, and after paying the losses will have assets of two millions for new business.

Superintendent Miller will to-morrow issue a circular calling upon all the New York companies to report under oath the extent of losses at Chicago, and present standing. This will be followed by an examination of the several companies.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 14.—The stockholders of the Pacific Insurance Company, finding the latest reported losses by the Chicago fire to be about two million of dollars, instead of one-half that sum as first estimated, now refuse paying the voluntary call for seventy-five per cent. on the capital. The law does not permit a larger assessment than five per cent. at one time. This the Directors will levy, but it is very doubtful if the stockholders will respond, since the best legal talent in this city declares that the individual liability does not hold good in law. The company will probably go into liquidation, though all possible effort will be made to continue business.

The effect of the Chicago fire on the value of insurance stocks has been awaited with deep interest by parties holding these securities. The shares of the insurance companies are widely distributed and generally held in small amounts, the number of stockholders being unusually large. There is no board where these stocks are regularly dealt in, and the public are dependent for quotations upon the weekly auction sales and a few brokers. On Wednesday there was an auction sale and the biddings were better than generally expected under the circumstances. The following table, from the New York Herald of Thursday, shows the prices current previous to the Chicago fire and those realized at auction on that day:

	Previous to Fire.	Yesterday.
Standard	123	117
Hope	90	91 to 91¼
Hamilton	143	148
Equitable	187	184¼
Metropolitan	52½	55
Washington	123	120
Home	118 to 120	59

It will be seen that, with the exception of the Home, there has been very little decline in prices, while, on the contrary, some stocks have advanced. It is proper to remark, however, that the shares of many companies reported as losing heavily were not on the catalogue.

CHICAGO RISING AGAIN.

[From the Journal of Saturday Evening.]

We learn that the entire Lake front, as far as Harmon court, has been taken by parties who have been burned out, and intend resuming business immediately.

Permits covering not over fifty feet, with the right of erecting temporary structures of not over one story, are issued by the authorities.

The work of cleaning away for the Chamber of Commerce is to be immediately commenced, and a structure erected equal in style and proportions to the former building.

Mr. Laflin has let the contract for eleven stores.

H. W. Hinsdale has contracted for one store, corner of River and Water streets, and one on the corner of Randolph and Dearborn Place.

The Fidelity Safe Deposit Company continue business, and will at once erect a building to inclose their vault.

J. Y. Scammon has already broken ground on his lot, immediately south of the late Terrace block, and will build immediately a frame block, 120x120 feet, of one-story stores or offices. There will be three of these stories. The first will be occupied by George C. Cook & Co., wholesale grocers, the second by Henderson & Co., boots and shoes, and the third by William H. King & Co. It is also intimated that Mr. Scammon will reopen the Marine Bank in the addition which he had begun to make to his late residence, and which was spared.

Hempstead & Armour will erect their three stores on Rives street, just as soon as the bricks cool.

The Commercial National Bank will rebuild immediately on their old site, on Dearborn, just north of Randolph street.

Ex-Mayor John B. Rice will put up a new block on the old site, on Dearborn street, immediately.

James Egan has made arrangements for a three-story brick on the north side of Madison street, two doors from Wells, and its erection in ten days is guaranteed.

SUNDAY IN THE CITY.

[From the Cincinnati Gazette.]

CHICAGO, October 15.

The city has been quiet to-day, and the weather clear and cool. The burning coal piles are nearly extinguished, and this, taken in connection with the dampness of all combustible material, has quieted the apprehensions of the people.

Last night the wind blew a terrific gale, and there was little undisturbed slumber. To-night will be the first quiet sleep that the city has had for a week.

The ruins were covered to-day with curiosity seekers. The localities visited were those where had stood notion and crockery stores. There was a great influx of visitors, excursion trains coming in crowded on all the roads. Cincinnati and Louisville were well represented by sympathizing citizens, many of whom generously offered their houses to their needy friends who had lost all in the great conflagration. They wandered through the ruins all day, returning home at night. They all united in the opinion that no idea could be formed of the stupendous character of the calamity except by personal inspection.

The churches were filled to-day with sorrowful congregations. All the pastors spoke of the themes that filled all their thoughts, but only dared to touch it at the edges, the calamity being so near.

The Rev. Mr. Cheney's church was crowded by his own parishioners and others. The discourse was one of the most earnest and practical of the day, inculcating patience, charity and economy, especially the last. The people of Chicago must hereafter live plain and dress coarse.

Robert Collyer gathered a considerable audience on the ruins of his church. He stood upon a stone in front of the entrance, and his congregation stood in a semi-circle in front of him. His scriptural selection was the grand passage in Isaiah, 64 and 65. The congregation sang the 100th Psalm, "Before Jehovah's awful Throne," Mr. Collyer leading it. The sermon was an informal address without texts. It was delivered with great pathos, occasionally interrupted by the emotion of the speaker and the sobs of the auditors. He said that he had hoped to be able ere this to rise to some heighth of sentiment from which he could look down upon his great sorrow. He had not attained such a height as yet, but hoped at some future time to attain it. He touched the calamity gently, and whenever he ventured too near it the tears fell in showers and the sobs increased in violence. He recounted the limited number of things left to be thankful for, friends saved, and the great lesson taught by this sad experience. The congregation must be kept together. As for himself, he would go back to the forge, if necessary. He could make as good horseshoes and nails as any man in Chicago. He should stay with his people. Any talk about his leaving he should consider at most an insult. After the service, the insurance upon the church was read; it was $105,000, of which $75,000 will be saved.

St. James Episcopal Church also met upon the ruins. The pastor officiated. This is one of the historical churches of Chicago. It has on a single Sunday given as high as thirty thousand dollars for benevolent purposes. The service was interesting, but the scene was very sad. A few came in their carriages, in which they had fled from the fire. They constituted their only wealth.

The First Universalist Church, the Rev. Mr. Ryder, met in the open air. The same mournful scenes were repeated. The out-door services, with their gloomy surroundings, were reminiscent of the worship of the early Christians in the Roman catacombs. It is thought that nearly all the churches burned will be rebuilt as elegantly as ever by the insurance, and outside assistance. The Baptists fear that they will be obliged to consolidate.

After the quiet and rest of the Sabbath, and with more cheerful financial prospects, the people of Chicago will commence the week with renewed hope and vigor. The city has never been so free from crime and disorder as at present.

Your correspondent was informed by Gen. Sheridan, to-day, that all the stories about incendiaries being hanged and shot were without a shadow of foundation. He had investigated every case reported, and found that all rested upon the most absurd and flimsy foundations.

The First National Bank will pay dollar for dollar to its depositors to-morrow. The other national banks will do the same before the close of the week.

Potter Palmer continues work on his hotel. The Sherman House will be rebuilt almost immediately. The First National Bank will be in its old building in forty days, roofing it at the second story.

AN APOSTROPHE FROM BEECHER.

Henry Ward Beecher, in Plymouth Church Sunday evening, said: "The Queen of England from her imperial throne flashes an order to Canada to empty the storehouses of blankets and send them to Chicago. There is more in those blankets to bind Canada and Great Britain to our hearts than all England's muskets and all her ships-of-war. The city of London gives one thousand guineas from its own treasury. Thank God there is one city in the world that's got a thousand guineas to give whose treasury is not completely empty. Churches and theaters combine in the noble work. God bless the theaters."

MEETING OF THE RELIEF TRUSTEES.

Depot of Supplies to be Established—Manufacturers' Meeting—More Contributions.

The Trustees of the Fund being raised in this city met in the Mayor's office yesterday morning, Mayor Brush, President, and Joseph Cohen, Esq., Secretary.

On motion, Mayor Brush was authorized to allow Mrs. Springer Harbaugh to draw on the funds in his hands for the purpose of purchasing raw material for the manufacture of clothing, etc.

On motion, forty dollars, advanced by the committee to two Pittsburghers in Chicago, was directed to be refunded.

DEPOT FOR SUPPLIES TO BE ESTABLISHED HERE.

The following dispatch, received this morning from Mr. Jones, chairman of the Pittsburgh Committee in Chicago, was read:

CHICAGO, October 15th, 1871.

Hon. Jared M. Brush, Mayor:

Capt. Gill has just arrived with a car load of supplies, which, with three car loads of stoves, &c., will be handed over to the Chicago Aid and Relief Society, to the credit of the citizens of Pittsburgh. Your committee unite in the recommendation of the Chicago Aid and Relief Society that a depot be established in Pittsburgh for the reception of supplies, to be held subject to their order. Just now there is food sufficient for ten days' use, and a system has been established, and will soon be in successful working operation that will insure an intelligent knowledge of their most pressing wants. Coal, stoves, warm under and outer clothing will soon be needed, and if such supplies could be held in Pittsburgh, subject to order as needed, it would be desirable. The Mayor and the members of the Chicago Aid and Relief Society extend their heartfelt thanks to the citizens and corporation of Pittsburgh for what has been done and is doing for their citizens, and wish that a record be kept by you of material sent, in order that they may make suitable arrangements in the future. They are especially glad to know that our ladies are moving in the work, and promises to give proper direction to their benevolent efforst.

J. HERVEY JONES,
Chairman of Committee.

On motion the Mayor was instructed to rent a store for the purpose of storing contributions of clothing, &c., to be held subject to the order of the Chicago Committee, and to engage a man to attend to the same. It was directed also, that parties desiring to donate clothing, &c. to Chicago and the other suffering States, send their contributions to said store.

Mr. Pears handed in $89, standing on the books of Bakewell, Pears & Co, to the credit of unknown parties, received during the war for defense. The same was accepted and authorized.

The meeting then adjourned.

MEETING OF MANUFACTURERS' COMMITTEE.

The committee of iron and steel manufacturers, foundrymen and dealers in pig iron, appointed at the first meeting of the Fund Trustees last week, held a meeting in the Controller's office, to arrange measures for collecting contributions from those identified with the various metal interests.

Mr. James Park, Jr., made a proposition that a number of the leading iron and steel manufacturers, foundrymen, and dealers in pig iron, raise, on their individual notes, money to the amount of $500,000, and loan the same for five years, at six per cent. to the leading business men of Chicago, who had been left by the fire without means to rebuild or to resume business. This action would amount to a contribution on the part of the manufacturers here, of two per cent. on half a million, for five years, as the money would have to be raised here at eight per cent. The proposition was not adopted, and the sub-committees were appointed to obtain contributions, one to act among the foundrymen and dealers in pig iron, &c.

THE CONTRIBUTIONS.

Mayor Brush has now in his hands between $3,000 and $4,000 of the fund. This portion of the money is being largely drawn upon for the payment of bills and the purchase of flannels, &c., for the ladies to make up.

Seven car loads of stores have already been sent away from this city, and almost another car load is ready to be stored in the Pittsburgh depot when it shall have been located.

Mr. Jones, Chairman of the Committee at Chicago, telegraphed the Mayor last evening that the Chicago Committee of the Relief Fund had established a permanent depot and were ready to receive any supplies now on hand in Pittsburgh. Stoves, bedding, &c., were badly needed, and Mr. Jones hoped some would be sent on promptly. It is not improbable, therefore, that more clothing will be forwarded to-day.

THE SUBSCRIPTIONS.

Over $70,000 Already Subscribed.

The following subscriptions were made at the office of Mr. Pears, Treasurer of the Chicago Fund, on Saturday: Previously reported, $62,278.07. THE LADIES' RELIEF ASSOCIATION.

Contributions in Cash and Goods.

The following communication from the President of the Ladies' Relief Association shows that the ladies are actively at work: Many of the ladies, with the officers, were in the rooms yesterday morning. The purchasing committee were early on the streets, the cutting committee at their tables, with efficient assistants. The number of ladies who came for garments to be made at their homes, or in the rooms, proved that there was no lack of willing workers. We acknowledge the receipt of the following articles: From Mr. J. W. Spencer, 1 web of muslin, 3 webs of delaines; Mr. Ernest Deitrich, 12 yards delaine, 7 yards calico; German Church, corner of Sixth and Smithfield, 4 boxes of clothing and shoes; Mr. Fiatowski, 11 cloth cloaks for women; Mrs. Wm. Awl, 3 complete suits for little girls; Rev. Mrs. Rutledge, 2 blanket shawls, large size, 1 waterproof cloak and $2 cash; Mrs. Springer Harbaugh, $5; Mrs. Wm. Frew, $5; Mrs. Samuel McKee, $5; Mrs. Umbstaetter, $5; Mrs. John Harper, $5; Mrs. Samuel Jones, $5; Mr. J. E. Umbstaetter, $5; Mrs. Fannie Gorden, $25; Mrs. Sands, $10; Mrs. Caroline Bloomer, $10; Eagle Cotton Works, 3 bolts muslin; Mrs. John F. Patterson, 6 yards muslin; Mrs. David Smith, 5 yards muslin; Morganstein & Co., Market street, 30 woolen hoods, 29 neck comforts; Mr. Duncan, 1 package of goods; Fifth Avenue Methodist Church, $98; Mrs. Sands, $10; Mrs. Milton Caughey, $5; Graff, Bennett & Co., $500; Mrs. Gen. We ask the other churches of the city and neighborhood to send us their contributions. We will endeavor to use discretion and good judgment in distributing our funds, being determined by the force of merit to win the favorable opinion of all good people.

MARTHA M. UMBSTAETTER.

THE DRAYMEN AND TEAMSTERS.

Adjourned Meeting Held.

On Saturday evening the draymen and teamsters held an adjourned meeting at City Hall, President Haney in the chair.

The following subscriptions were then handed in: By Thomas F. Farrell; Wm. Wilson, $5; Henry Gaw, $2; John Broder, $1; John Holmes, $3; Hugh McCracken, $1; Roger Sweeney, $5; Arthur Martin, $5; George Elsesser, $2; Dennis Haggerty, $2; a total of $26.

Mr. Owen Hamill reported as follows: Archie Barry, $2; Peter Kelly, $1; Owen Carroll, $1; Patrick McLaughlin, $2; Samuel McGee, $1; Patrick O'Hara, $2; John McWilliams, $2; Dennis O'Brien, $2; Wm. Lamb, $2; John Shelley, $2; James Convoy, $1; John Wilson, $1; D. J. Fleming, $2; Alex. McCray, $1; John Murray, $2; James Duncan, $1, and Henry McGrevy, $1; a total of $26.

The other subscriptions were Timothy O'Brien, $20; Frank J. O'Brien, $1; Wm. Edw. O'Brien, $1, and David Bradford, $2; a total of $24. In all, the subscriptions to the fund have thus far amounted to $147.

A resolution was passed requesting all persons having subscription lists to report finally at the next meeting.

On motion adjourned until next Saturday.

ALLEGHENY.

The Good Work Going On.

The citizens of Allegheny held another meeting Saturday evening in the City Building, C. W. Cooper in the Chair.

The Chairman stated that another car of clothing would be sent on with the 1:48 A. M. express.

As a number of refugees had already arrived in this city to reside permanently, and they are expected to arrive daily, Mr Claney moved that a committee be appointed to look to their interests. The motion prevailed and Messrs. Callery, Glenn, McGunnegle, McClain and Chief Clark were appointed.

FIRST WARD.

Mr. Jennings reported the following subscriptions: John D. Robinson, $25; Hon. Thomas Williams, $50; employees in Pittsburgh Locomotive Works, Allegheny, $275; one class of students in Western Theological Seminary, $65; Rev. David B. Willson, $10; Professor J. C. Smith, $10; Hon. James L. Graham, $50; Mrs. Richard Floyd, $20; Henry S. McGeary, $25; W. H. Brill, $10; R. Miller, Jr., $50; Simon Small, $1; John Siddons, $20, C. E. Willis, $5; Wm. Hainsworth, $5; Ed. Upstill, $5; S. George, $25; Felix Grant, $5; E. Hyde's Sons, $25; Stephen Hague, $10; J. B. Ingham, $12 50; C. F. Ingham, $12 50; Wm. McKee, $5; Moses Boreland, $5; Jos. Love, $20; R. S. Roisbouse, $5; J. Koenig, $1; Wm. Ralston, $5; John Heckel, $2; cash, $21—$780; previously reported, $292; total, $1,072.

The Chairman stated that so far $15,000 had been paid to the Treasurer, D. MacFerron.

The meeting then adjourned until Monday evening.

PAID INTO THE TREASURER'S OFFICE.

The following named gentlemen have, since our last report, paid the sums annexed to their names to the Treasurer of the Chicago Relief Fund, D. MacFerron: D. S. H. Gilmore, $50; Thomas Booth and R. Young, $20; Robt. McKnight, $50; Dr. Jacobus, $50; Wm. B. Pusey, $50; Wm. Morrison, $500; Frederick Andriessen, $25; Alex. Moore, $50; Jas. Graham, $20; E. Robinson, $100; Isaac Sterne, $25; Jas. Hill & Co., $50; Chas. W. Cooper, $50; Geo. Gerst & Buckley, $86 50; Irwin, McCance, $50; James Munden, $50; Henry Irwin, $50; Thos. Sinclair, $25; employes of Boyd & Son, $215; W. Boyd & Son, $100; Ella and Jane Smartz, children, 50 cents.

THE MEETING LAST EVENING.

An adjourned meeting of the citizens of Allegheny was held last evening in the City Building, Mayor Callow in the Chair.

Mr. Cooper, from the Executive Committee, reported that he had purchased a car load of blankets, comforts, clothing, shoes, etc., which car would be forwarded on the 1:48 A. M. train to-morrow (this) morning.

Mr. Callery stated that upwards of twenty refugees had arrived in the city, some of whom intended to remain permanently. The Committee had procured work for some of those refugees who intended to remain permanently, and would procure work for the remainder as soon as possible. The refugees were all comfortably quartered in the Girard House. Passes were obtained for those on their way East.

Mr. Jennings, from the First ward, reported two subscriptions of $100 each, from Thomas Dawson and H. Brady Wilkins.

It was reported that collections were made in the Second ward schools to the amount of $102 35, and in the Fourth ward schools $100 were collected.

Mr. Hopf, from the Seventh ward, reported the following: Employees of Lakhandt, Keifer & Co., $28 50; Seventh ward schools, $19 39 and 1 wagon load of clothing; German Catholic school, $1 65 and 9 packages; cash, $20—$69 54.

Roland Jones, from the Ninth ward, reported the following: Cyrus Hutchinson, $10; Charles Cummins, $5; Joseph Cheviston, $1; George Bartley, $1; Richard Powers, $1; Charles Hamburgh, $1—$28.

The meeting then adjourned until this evening, when some action will be taken looking toward relieving those made destitute by the disastrous fires in Michigan and Wisconsin. It is expected that there will be a large attendance, as much sympathy has been expressed for these unfortunate ones, who have been overlooked until now, on account of the sufferers of the Chicago fire. As their wants have been temporarily relieved, many citizens feel that something should be done for the other sufferers, and it is likely that some definite action will be taken this evening.

CHICAGO BRIEFS.

CONTRIBUTIONS of money, clothing, &c., still continue to come in for the Chicagoans.

ADAM WEIGAND, of 186 Smithfield street, is providing for five Chicago sufferers.

A DEPOT for Chicago supplies will doubtless be distributed to-day.

THE two theaters are making extensive preparations for the Chicago benefits.

AMONG the volunteers for the Lawrenceville-Chicago Concert is Gschwander's Tyrolese Troupe.

THE President of the Common Council of Chicago last night telegraphed more thanks to Pittsburgh and her people for their good work.

THE OLIVER B. DOUD Dramatic Association will perform "The Dead Heart" at Masonic Hall, to-night, for the benefit of the Chicago relief fund.

AS A DEPOT for supplies is about to be established here, there is no necessity for contributions of perishable provisions.

THE Lawrenceville concert for the relief of the sufferers, and which is to come off in the Seventeenth ward school-house on next Tuesday evening, promises to be a success.

THE employees of the Pittsburgh Post Office last evening forwarded to the Postmaster of Chicago, for distribution to the Chicago sufferers, sixty-five pairs of blankets, worth in the aggregate $350. The blankets were registered and sent by mail.

THE subscription started on the line of the Allegheny Valley Railroad for the benefit of the Chicago sufferers, is progressing finely, and when the total comes to be added it will be seen that the officers and employees of the road are not behind others in sympathy for fellow-men in distress and want.

THE officers and employees in this city of the Pennsylvania Company and Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and St. Louis Railway Company have started a subscription paper in aid of the employees of the company at Chicago who may have suffered by the ravages of the late fire. The paper is headed with $500. It is expected that $2,000 will be raised. The money will be placed in a bank in this city, subject to the order of those for whose benefit it is raised.

THE citizens of the old Lawrenceville District are making arrangements for the giving of a grand concert for the benefit of the Chicago sufferers. The best of our amateur vocalists, including several of our glee clubs, Messers, Pope, Slack and others, have kindly consented to appear on the occasion. The concert will likely come off on next Tuesday evening, in the Seventeenth Ward school-house, and should be well attended. It is not improbable that the concert will be repeated in Allegheny City and in one of the halls in the lower part of Pittsburgh.

THE Pittsburgh Subsistence Committee, so well and favorably known during the war, has been reorganized. Two members of the Committee left for Chicago Saturday morning with twenty boxes of food and clothing. The distributing department in Chicago is in charge of Miss Ann Thaw and Mr. Joseph Stockton. Contributions of money, clothing or provisions for the committee can be left at the store of George Albree & Co., corner of Fourth avenue and Wood street, or at the store of Weyman & Bro., corner of Smithfield street and Diamond alley.

IN the hurry of making out the Ladies' Relief Committees several of the churches were unavoidably overlooked, and no committees from them appointed. It is requested that, notwithstanding this fact, all the churches will go to work at once, and report at the place and time announced.

A MEETING of the citizens of Sharpsburg borough was held Friday evening in the Public School House, to raise money for the aid of the Chicago relief fund, and we learn that over $1,400 was subscribed.

Two hundred dollars was the amount realized for the Chicago sufferers at the benefit given by Manager Aims on Friday evening.

THE EXCURSION THIS MORNING.

Prompt Attendance Required of the Guests.

The positive announcement is made that the excursion train will leave the Monongahela depot at seven o'clock sharp, so that all who are not then present will be left behind. The Mayor's Clerk, Mr. James S. Patterson, will be on hand with a force of policemen sufficient to prevent any not holding the proper pass from entering the cars. No trouble is anticipated, as it is expected none but those who have received information through the proper channel will presume to go about the cars.

The first section will be in charge of W. C. Pendleton, Esq., Mr. Hughart, Secretary, with Alexander Boulton as conductor; the second under the directon of Mr. Chas. Donnelly, the Auditor, with Walter Dull as conductor, and the third under the supervision of Mr. Page, the Treasurer, with Mr. John Sampsell as conductor.

The badges for the Mayors, Councilmen, and city officials will be distributed by Dr. Arthurs, and those to the merchants and others by the railroad officials. On board the train the invitations on behalf of the city of Baltimore will be distributed.

Mayor Brush is unable to attend the excursion in consequence of his time being entirely engrossed with the Chicago subscriptions and supplies, and he has therefore deputized his clerk, Mr. Patterson, to go, and as far as possible, perform that which otherwise would fall upon him. We have no doubt that Mr. Patterson will energetically discharge whatever duty is assigned him, and do all in his power to make the arrangements successful.

Short stops will be made at several prominent points; dinner will be served upon the train; Cumberland reached at two o'clock P. M., and Baltimore at 8:45 P. M.

The lists will be made up after the train starts, and the same forwarded to Baltimore by telegraph from some point on the western end of the road. On the arrival of the train at Baltimore the excursionists will be conveyed to the hotels assigned them, and on Wednesday and Thursday excursions in every direction will take place. Thursday evening the banquet will be held in the Maryland Institute, and a most gorgeous banquet it will no doubt be.

The cars of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad arrived yesterday, and last evening the "amendments" were engaged in packing the baggage cars with provender, &c.

The Chairman of the Committee on Toasts, at Baltimore, last evening forwarded to this city the following as the toasts to which Pittsburghers would be expected to reply:

First—The Iron City.
Second—The Pittsburgh, Washington and Baltimore Railroad.
Third—Manufactures.

Messrs. Cohen and Snodgrass, the Committee on Toasts, have arranged for the speeches, and several eloquent gentlemen hold themselves in readiness to reply to whatever toasts may be offered.

It is expected that the excursionists will number between four and five hundred.

THE NEW COMMISSIONERS.

They Take the Oath, and Assume Their Duties To-Day.

Messrs. McGunnegel and Stuckrath, the Commissioners elect, having received their certificates of election, appeared before Judge Sterrett, of the Quarter Sessions, yesterday, and took the official oath. They will enter upon their duties to-day, Messrs. Dilworth and Robb retiring. Commissioner Scott has been lying quite ill at his residence in McClure township for two weeks past, and will not be able to be in the office for some days yet. Mr. Robb, however, who has become quite familiar with the business during his brief term, will remain for a week or more to introduce the new incumbents into the routine of the office. It was not the intention of Messrs. McGunnegle and Stuckrath to assume their duties until the first of November, as that has been the custom at the office for a number of years past. Many of their friends, however, have urged them to take hold at once, and in deference to their wishes they have done so. The affairs of the office are in good shape, and they will have no difficulty in starting in right.

Allegheny Board of Health.

A regular meeting of the Board of Health was held last evening.

The Health Officer reported that during the past week twenty notices to abate nuisances had been served.

Mr. Blakely, from the Ordinance Committee, reported that the Committee had prepared an ordinance to be presented at the next meeting of Councils, declaring the seat of any member of the Board vacant who should be absent at three consecutive meetings.

Mr. Barker moved that the salary of the Physician to the Board be fixed. The matter was referred to the Finance Committee.

A number of bills were presented and warrants ordered to be drawn for their payment.

The meeting then adjourned.

AN INFORMATION has been made before Deputy Mayor Michaels by S. W. Reynolds, who charged Henry Rickey with forcible detainer. The defendant, it is alleged, came home very drunk and abused his family. The latter took refuge in the house of Mr. Reynolds, where, it is stated, Rickey followed, kicking and otherwise acting in a disorderly manner. He was held to bail for a hearing.

SECOND EDITION.

EUROPE.

BY THE ATLANTIC CABLE.

Speech of Emperor William.

BERLIN, October 16.—Emperor William to-day opened the sessions of the Reichsrath in person. He began his address with a review of the first session of the North German Parliament, and of the course of German unification. The progress of this important policy and the present condition of United Germany he considered eminently favorable and gratifying. Passing from this to topics to be considered by this session, he said its chief care would be the consideration of the budget for the empire. The advances made by the several States of the Confederation must be repaid out of the funds received from France as indemnity. The budget must include the expense of settling the government of the territory acquired from France. The Emperor expressed the opinion that a recognition of the coinage of Germany is desirable. He said the Federal Council was at this time engaged in devising measures for the establishment of a gold coin basis for a uniform system of German coinage. He also proposed as subject ripe for discussion the securing of a line of direct communication through Switzerland to Italy, to be so controlled throughout that the interests of Germany would be fairly considered. Alluding to the foreign relations of the Empire, he said that such relations were entirely satisfactory. There was no cause for anxiety in any quarter. Especially was the correspondence with Austria of a cordial nature, and intercourse with that country was no longer shadowed by reminiscences of past conflicts.

The Humane Work Abroad.

MANCHESTER, October 16.—A meeting was held here to-day in aid of the Chicago sufferers. The Bishop of Manchester presided. Jacob Bright and Hugh Birley, members of Parliament, and Mr. Adams, United States Consul, were present. The contributions on the spot were £4,600 sterling. A large quantity of clothing was also given. Subscriptions are pouring in from all parts of Great Britain. Steamers from all ports carry large contributions of money and material.

Meeting of Spanish Republicans.

MADRID, October 16.—A great Republican meeting was held in this city to-day. Senor Orenz presided. Resolutions were adopted declaring that the party would offer undying opposition to every form of government for Spain which was not purely republican. Nevertheless, in waging such a war upon the new Republican principles, they would not violate the laws of the land. Several speakers addressed the meeting, and some of them were very pronounced in their expressions against the present government. The most violent proclaimed their perfect sympathy with the republicans everywhere, and with the International Society, and declared that the faith of the republicans in Spain was indentical with the doctrines of liberty and equal rights now rapidly spreading through all the countries of Europe.

The Queen of England Pronounced Insane.

Special to the World.]

LONDON, October 16.—Mr. Bradlaw at an immense meeting here to-night declared that the Queen was insane and demanded a regency, to be composed of the Judges of Law and Equity until a Republic was established.

Miscellaneous Dispatches.

VERSAILLES, October 16.—Pouyer Quertier has arrived from Berlin, bearing copies of the treaties just concluded between France and Germany.

Prince Jerome Bonaparte has been granted the pass asked by him, permitting him to visit Corsica.

MADRID, October 16.—The political party, of which Sagosta is the head, has issued a manifesto document, acknowledging the sovereignty of the National Government as now constituted, and insists on the maintenance of the integrity of the national dominions. This portion of the manifesto has reference to the suppression of the insurrection in Cuba. The manifesto attacks the International Society as a dangerous and unpatriotic organization.

LONDON, October 16.—The Inman steamer City of Paris, Captain Morehouse, which left New York for Liverpool October 7, is off Cape Clear, broken down. Steamers have gone to her assistance. A strong breeze is blowing, but not sufficient to excite any apprehension in regard to the steamer's safety.

The subscriptions taken at the Mansion House for the benefit of the Chicago sufferers amounts thus far to £20,000. The Strand Theater devoted the proceeds of Wednesday's performance to the relief fund.

An address has been issued by the representatives of the workingmen, demanding a separation of the Church and State. The address announces that meetings of workingmen will be held throughout England in support of this movement.

Two steamers collided on the Tyne last night. Five persons were drowned.

VERSAILLES, October 16.—M. Picard has been appointed French Minister to Italy in place of Count De Chorseul, recalled. Guizot goes as French Minister to Greece. The appointment of Ferry as Minister to the United States has been withdrawn, in deference to public opinion.

LONDON, October 16.—Rev. Thompson, an American clergyman, preaches in the chapel of St. John, in the town of London. The chapel had not been used before since the time of the reformation.

LONDON, October 16.—It is rumored that General Ignatieff has been charged by Prince Gortschakoff to contrive an interview between the Czar of Russia and the Sultan of Turkey.

LONDON, October 16.—A supplementary edition of the Gazette this evening published the British Commissioners' regulations for presenting claims to be adjudicated under the Washington treaty for damages done by the Alabama.

PARIS, October 16.—A rumor comes from Marseilles of political disturbances in Corsica. They are believed to be inspired by the Bonapartist partisans.

The Chamber of Commerce of Sheffield has resolved to call a meeting of citizens for the purpose of contributing to the relief of Chicago.

A meeting for the relief of Chicago was held in the Town Hall of Liverpool to-day, at which the Mayor presided. A committee was appointed to receive contributions, and £2,500 sterling raised on the spot.

ST. LOUIS SENDING SUCCOR.

ST. LOUIS, October 16.—The executive committee of the relief fund this noon resolved to send to Mayor Ludington, of Milwaukee, a large amount of clothing, and to Alexander Mitchell twenty-five hundred dollars for the Wisconsin sufferers, and to report the donation to Senator Ferry, of Grand Haven, for the Michigan sufferers.

APPEALS FOR AID FROM MICHIGAN.

DETROIT, October 16.—Earnest appeals for aid still come from the north and northwestern portion of the State, which are being responded to with marked liberality. Contributions in this city of money, clothing and provisions continue to flow in, and every train and every boat conveys help to the sufferers. In thirty days water communication with the devastated district will cease, after which supplies must be teamed sixty miles to Manistee, and fifty to one hundred miles into Sinclair and Huron counties. Now is the time to send forward supplies, such as provisions, winter clothing, blankets, mattresses, and especially bedding for the sick.

The Relief Committe at Grand Rapids, in conjunction with Mr. Ferry, are unremitting in their efforts to attenuate the distress at Manistee and Holland. Contributions especially designed for these places should be sent direct to Senator Ferry, at Grand Haven.

The contributions at our churches yesterday reached several thousand dollars. Considerable aid from beyond the borders of Michigan are beginning to come in. All such will be most thankfully received. Gov. Baldwin arrived here to-day, and is to-night in consultation with the leading citizens of the State as to what shall be done in the present terrible emergency.

MASS MEETING AT GRAND RAPIDS.

At a mass meeting of the citizens of Grand Rapids held to-night for the purpose of establishing a Central Executive Relief Committee to act for western Michigan, D. E. Morris, of Holland, made the following statement: The number of families now to be supplied daily with food are: In Holland thirty-four; number of persons 1,294; number of families in Fillmore and Lakestown 70; number of persons 4,000; number of familiets in Holland townspip 40; number of people 200. Many af these people have to be carried through the winter. A Central Executive Committee was established to solicit, receive and disburse contributions for Western and Northern Michigan. The committee is composed of Hon. T. B. Gilbert, Hon. M. A. Howard, Hon. N. L. Avery, Hon. Henry Fraelick, and Capt. Robert Collins. The committee is intended to be a permanent one for the winter campaign, and will co-operate with the Detroit Relief Committee. The intention is to establish an effective system for relief in co-operation with other counties and cities in the State.

LETTER FROM DETROIT.

The Late Destructive Fires—The City a Tinder-Box—Urgent Necessities of the Stricken People.

Special Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Commercial.

DETROIT MICH., October 15, 1871.

On last Monday morning the citizens of Sault Ste. Marie, on awaking, were astonished to find that almost total darkness prevailed. The air was thick with smoke and full of ashes, while the very atmosphere they breathed was alive with flies and the ground covered with ashes like the sprinkling of snow. This, with a strong smell of fire, made the people feel as though the last day had come. So extremely thick was the smoke that navigation was suspended for that day, as no sane man would venture down the river under the circumstances. The smoke had driven the flies out of the woods, and it seemed as though they would drown everything which had life. There was no fire known within seventy-five miles on an air line, so you may well imagine the fierceness of the fire where it did rage.

On Tuesday a strong wind cleared away the smoke somewhat, and I took steam to this place. When we reached Lake Huron we again found ourselves enveloped in smoke, which was so thick and attended with such a strong smell of fire that it was almost impossible to breathe. Cabin and State rooms were all dense and thick with smoke, and the officers of the steamer could scarcely stand on watch outside.

We reached here last night and the first word we heard on landing was, did you hear of the Chicago fire? Did you hear that Michigan and Wisconsin were on fire? At the hotel the talk was fire; in the stores it is fire, and on the streets it is fire, fire, fire; everything seems to be on fire. I have seen no such excitement since the time the news came that Fort Sumter was attacked, as I have seen here to-day.

The fire at Chicago is a terrible thing and is a national calamity; but I doubt whether it will entail half the misery on the sufferers as will the fire in this State and Wisconsin. The people here are doing nobly, and to-day collections are being taken up all over this city, while the places of amusement are giving benefits for the sufferers, and wagons are passing through the streets with bells on them, asking for clothing. Scarcely a boat comes in but brings some poor souls who have been driven from comfortable homes, without anything, and have then to mourn the loss of some dear friends who perished by the devouring element. As if the fire fiend were not sufficiently satiated by its destructive march through the United States, he stepped across the river and gave Windsor a scorching, from which it will not soon recover. Detroit is dreadfully alarmed, as well it may be, as it is a perfect tinder-box, for the weather is very dry. Besides this, they fear an influx of roughs from Chicago, who may do immense harm. Every precaution is being taken. There is a strong extra police force on duty, and the fire department is greatly increased also.

Should any roughs be found committing depredations, they will find an easy way across Jordan, and that speedily, too.

The loss of life and property in the State of Michigan will be immense.

A. P. H.

THE original copy of President Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation, for which the Illinois Historical Society paid the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars, was burned at the Chicago great fire, as well as all the other valuable papers of the Society.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.

Supreme Court—Full Bench.

Opinions were delivered in the following cases:

BY THOMPSON, C. J.—Letzkus vs. Butler; Allegheny D. C. Judgment affirmed.

PER CURIAM.—In the following cases judgment was affirmed: Steamboat Urfida vs. Stein & Stein; O'Neill vs. Hudspeth, C. P; Brown vs. Shaw, C. P.; Hastings & Co. vs. Lacock, et ux., C. P.; Lefevre vs. Lefevre, D. C.; Peir vs. Carr, C. P.; McAboy vs. Johns, et ux., C. P.; March, for use, vs. The Citizens' Insurance Company, D. C.; Duff vs. Roberts, D. C.; McKee vs. Rogers, C. P.

Brown vs. Dickson, Stewart & Co., C. P.; injunction remains and the appeal is dismissed at the cost of appellants.

BY AGNEW J.—Neil et al. vs. McElheney et al.; D. C. Allegheny. Judgment reversed, and venire facias de novo awarded.

School Directors of Hampton township vs. Kelly, C. P. Allegheny. The order of the Court below is reversed, and the petition for a mandamus is dismissed at the cost of James Kelly, the petitioner.

BY SHARSWOOD, J.—Gamble et al. vs. Meldrum, C. P., Allegheny; affirmed.

Wilson vs. Duff, D. C.; judgment reversed, and venire facias de novo awarded.

McKee vs. Perchment, D. C., Allegheny. Affirmed.

Farney vs. Hughes, C. P. Affirmed.

The list for Erie, Crawford, Venango, Clarion, Jefferson and Forrest counties were then taken up, and a number of cases were non-prossed, and several continued.

On motion of J. R. S. Thompson, Geo. A. Allen, of Erie, was admitted to practice.

Finney vs. Hayes, Erie county, and Canier et al., vs. Esbaugh, Jefferson county, were continued to the third week.

American Express Company vs. Second National Bank, Crawford county, argued by Church for plaintiff in error, and by Morris, contra.

Quarter Sessions—Judge Sterrett.

THE END OF SMALL.

The jury in the case of Frank Small, tried on Friday for felonious assault on officer Doak, yesterday morning, returned a verdict of guilty. He was immediately after tried and convicted of robbing Stevenson's jewelry store. He was then sentenced to eight years and six months in the penitentiary.

TAMPERING WITH A STEAM BOILER.

Felix McDermott was tried and convicted for malicious mischief in entering the factory of Byers, McCullough & Co. in September last, and opening the mud valve of the boilers, thus letting the water run out and endangering the lives of the workmen. He was also convicted of larceny, in breaking open the tool chest of John Hammerline, in the same factory, and stealing a lot of tools. For the last offence he got four years in the Penitentiary, and for the other one year in the Workhouse.

Ferdinand Moss, charged with assault and battery on oath of Josephine Hawley, was acquitted and ordered to pay one-third of the cost—the other two-thirds to be paid by the prosecutrix.

M. O'Hara and John Swindle, tried for the larceny of a stack of hay, the property of Joseph Dilworth, were acquitted.

CONVICTION OF CELIA BURNS.

Celia Burns, alias Webster, was tried for felonious assault and battery on George Loup, in July last, at a picnic on Mount Washington. The testimony was that the prosecutor saw the defendant throwing stones at some children, and when he remonstrated with her she turned upon him, and cut him in several places. The jury found a verdict of not guilty of the felony, but guilty of unlawful cutting and wounding. Remanded for sentence.

Wm. Duncan, charged with the larceny of clothing from Thomas Sinclair, was next placed on trial. After the jury had been sworn the court adjourned.

Common Pleas Court—Judge Collier.

THE FRANKSTOWN AVENUE INJUNCTION.

The application for an injunction to restrain the Commissioners of Frankstown avenue from proceeding with the improvement, on the ground that the ordinance was invalid, and the election under it illegal and void, was refused. The Court was unanimous in this action, and no written decision was rendered.

JURY TRIALS.

Jury trials were resumed yesterday in this Court. Robert Hendell vs. Spencer, Jones & Co. This was an action to recover damages to the amount of seventy-eight dollars, for injuries claimed to have been done to the household furniture of plaintiff, by putting a new front to the store of defendants. Messrs. Spencer, Jones & Co. keep a dry goods store at the corner of Federal street and Park Way, Allegheny, and the plaintiff resides in the rooms over the store. In order to put a new front in the store-room it was necessary to tear out the front of the room of Mr. Hendell, on Federal street. The suit was for damages to carpets, and other articles of furniture, by the tearing out of the front, and by exposure to the weather during the progress of the work. Verdict for plaintiff, $60.

Jane McGee vs. Wm. Peters. Action on a rent account. Verdict for plaintiff, $196 43.

The Court announced that the jury summoned for the fifth Monday of October will not be wanted, and will be excused from attendance.

TRIAL LIST FOR TO-DAY.

The meeting prom[illegible] to be a success so far as attendance is concerned, as there are already a large number of persons in the city from different portions of Western Pennsylvania, and many others are expected. The society will be called the West Pennsylvania Poultry Society. A number of poultry raisers, of large experience, who have made the matter a study will be present and give the Society the benefit of their experience, as well as to the best breeds of fowls, and the best methods of raising them. The meeting will no doubt prove profitable as well as interesting.

Mortality Report.

According to the report of the Physician of the Health Board, Dr. J. G. McCandless, there were fifty-two deaths in the city during the week ending October 15th. The diseases are stated as follows: accident 3; accident by burn 1; albuminuria 1; apoplexy of the lungs 1; asthma 1; coma 3; convulsions 2; cyanosis 1; diarrhea 1; disease of the heart 1; diptheria 1; dysentery 2; scarlet fever 1; typhus fever 3; hypertrophy of heart 1; haemorrhoids 1; hemorrhage from bowels 1; inflamation of brain 1; inflammation of lungs 4; inflammation of lungs, typhoid, 1; inantion 1; jaundice 1; old age 1; small-pox 13; tabes mesenterica 1; unknown 1; uraemia 1; still births 2. Males, 30; females, 22; colored, 2. Total, 52.

Insurance.

We desire to call attention to the card of Messrs. Coffin & Kellogg, Insurance agents, corner Third Avenue and Wood street, who represent the following reliable companies: Franklin of Philadelphia, Republic of New York, Imperial of London, Phœnix of Brooklyn, and Royal of Liverpool. These companies after adjusting their losses by the late Chicago fires will, combined, represent assets of about $23,900,000. It would be well for those who are insured in companies of doubtful solvency to transfer their risks to some safe company, and we know of no safer companies than those represented by Messrs. Coffin & Kellogg.

Escaped Nun—Edith O'Gorman.

This heroic and popular young lecturess will deliver a lecture to ladies only, in Lafayette Hall, corner of Fourth avenue and Wood street, on Thursday afternoon, October 19th, at half-past two o'clock; admission twenty-five cents. Tickets are for sale at the jewelery store of W. G. Dunseath, No. 56 Fifth avenue, and on the afternoon of the lecture can be had at the Hall. Doors will be opened at half-past one o'clock. As the proceeds of this lecture will be appropriated to charitable purposes, it is hoped that the ladies will turn out in large numbers.

The Pilgrim.

This evening there will be an exhibition of "The Pilgrim" in the Second Presbyterian Church, the proceeds for the benefit of the Howard Mission School. The Pilgrim is a series of pictures, twenty-seven in number, illustrating scenes in "Bunyan's Pilgrim's Progrers. An explanatory lecture will be given by Rev. S. C. Farris, and a quartette, consisting of Messrs. Bissell, Roe, Darling and Dixon, will furnish some excellent vocal music. There should be a large attendance this evening.

Brakeman Killed.

James Smith Campbell, brakeman on the Pittsburgh Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad, was accidentally killed at the Union Depot at six o'clock last evening. The body was terribly mutilated, the neck broken and one of his feet cut off. The body was removed to the undertaking establishment of Mr. Devore on Grant street, where an inquest will be held this morning. Deceased was twenty years old and boarded at Tarentum.

TO SHIPPERS.—The attention of shippers is directed to an advertisement in another column of the Philadelphia and Southern Mail Steamship Company. This line includes five first class steamers, which run from Philadelphia to New Orleans. The company is represented in this city by Mr. C. A. Carpenter, agent of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

THE Baltimore express upon the Pittsburgh, Washington and Baltimore Railroad, which left for the first time at eight o'clock last evening, took out a large number of passengers—more than was expected for the first through night train.

THE silk flag and other articles of value belonging to the Lorelie maennerchor, stolen from Turner Hall on Saturday evening have been recovered by detective officer Dressler.

Albums.

There are but few things, if any, more entertaining to many persons than looking over an album of photographs, and there is no establishment in the city where so large a stock and fine a collection of albums will be found as at J. R. Weldin & Co.'s, No. 101 Wood street. Messrs. Weldin & Co. have albums of all sizes and at all prices, and sell them cheaper than any other house. They also have on hand a full and complete stock of books and stationery, which they are selling at the most reasonable prices. Call and examine the stock of albums before purchasing elsewhere.

THE patrons of the Pittsburgh, Washington & Baltimore Railroad should not overlook the time-table which went into effect yesterday. Otherwise they may miss catching their trains.

FINE solid gold goods at the Department Store, Masonic Hall building.

Reliability! Liberality!

We invite attention to the card of the Liverpool and London Globe Insurance Company, in another column, of which Messrs. R. Edwards & Son are the agents in this city. This company is ready to pay all its Chicago losses on demand. These amount to about two millions of dollars. Notwithstanding their heavy loss the Company has, with commendable liberality, subscribed $10,000 to the Chicago sufferers. Persons desiring reliable insurance would do well to call on Messrs. Edwards at their office, 38 Wood street.

Go to the Department Store, Masonic Hall building, for fine pocket knives, pistols and optical goods.

WHY should housewives fret and scold
When their knives and forks look old?
Let them to their grocer go
And procure Sa-po-li-o!

If you'd have your tinware bright;
If your windows you'd have light,
Straightway to your good grocer go,
Ask him for Sapolio.

Wholesome and Nutricious.

The superior crackers manufactured by Marvin & Co., at 91 and 93 Liberty street are highly nutricious and of a most wholesome character. They are used in all hotels, restaurants and all private families. Physicians recommend them. Ask your grocer for them, or send your orders to the bakery, Nos. 91 and 93 Liberty street. TTHS

CONTINENTAL affairs have been pretty generally lost sight of during the stupendous home events of the last week, and hence the reference which has been given in the press to the late elections in France has been very slight and meagre. Under any other circumstances, however, the news would have been deemed important and noteworthy; in that, while it is not yet clear which of the political parties will triumph in the end, and while there does not seem to be a majority of the whole French people in favor of any of the various forms of government proposed, those who are termed moderates and liberal conservatives are having things pretty much their own way. The only question is the direction in which this way leads, whether to monarchy or imperialism. While the showing is good in favor of the present Government, the returns nevertheless indicate the existence of a considerable element of opposition to M. THIERS's administration, and desire for a more fixed and stable form of government. Bonapartist stock seems to be at a heavier discount than was a week ago supposed. On the whole the election, as far as reported, is a damper alike to the Radicals, the Bourbons and the Imperialists.

AS WE predicted at the outset, the great German reformation of which Dr. DOELLINGER is the recognized head, is bearing fruit of which the leader of the movement did not in its inception dream. The debate in the Bavarian Reichsrath on the subject of Papal infallibility, reported in yesterday's COMMERCIAL, and the bold and unqualified manner in which the Minister of Worship and Public Instruction placed himself and the Government on the side of the "Old Catholics," declaring that their standing as members of the Church remained unaltered, notwithstanding the decrees of the Vatican, and guaranteeing to them political recognition and protection in their civic and ecclesiastical privileges, puts Bavaria squarely on the side of the reformers, and shows what a strong grip the movement is obtaining on the heart of the people, especially as respects the dogma of Papal infallibility and Papal supreme jurisdiction. Should the reform spread as it seems likely to do, the expressed hope of its leaders to effect a reunion with the Greek-Oriental and Russian Churches, and with the Protestant Episcopal Churches of England and this country, based on the desire of reform and brought about by the intercession of science and the progress of Christian culture, may yet ultimately be realized. When the fire broke out in Chicago, no one imagined it would lay the city in ashes; neither in this rose yet full blown.

BY no means least among the lessons which the destruction of Chicago teaches, is the necessity of thoroughly and rigidly enforcing the law which exists in most States, prohibiting the sale of kerosene oil for illuminating purposes, unless the explosive naptha has been eliminated from it. The cases of death and disaster which have arisen from evasion and neglect of this necessary law are simply numberless. Despite the wholesome restrictions of the statute, compounds of the most vile and perilous character are manufactured and sold by unscrupulous dealers who care for nothing except for the increase of their own profits, to the constant peril of life and limb. Upon the principle of locking the stable door after the horse is stolen, we suppose the Legislature of Illinois will at its present special session deal with the subject in a proper manner; but there are other cities in other States that are not yet burned up, but which are in exactly the same peril and liable to the same fate as the peril and doom which overtook Chicago. Let it be understood that kerosene oil, unless rendered perfectly non-explosive, is as dangerous as gunpowder or nitro-glycerine, and enforce the law respecting it accordingly.

WHAT is the game which BISMARCK is playing with England? He seems to hold her entire mercantile existence in his hands. It is said that no less a sum than twenty-five millions sterling is now in his possession in the shape of bills drawn by French on English capitalists. If this be true, and he should determine to present them and convert them into gold, it would bring about a crash such as hardly ever has been seen; since all the specie in the Bank of England would not suffice to cash his claim, the total funds of that institution amounting to only a little over twenty-one millions in all. For the purpose of averting a crisis the directors have raised the vote of discount to five per cent.; but if BISMARCK should insist on payment the calamity would be just as inevitable, the Bank being bound to give gold for their notes on presentation, which would enable him to bankrupt the concern in a single day, or reduce to a similar footing all whose paper he now holds. It is impossible, of course, to penetrate the designs of the Prussian statesman; but the fact that he seems so anxious to get hold of English paper in preference to all other, has a look about it which makes one think of the snubbing he gave that country during the French war, and of his secret alliance with Russia for the partitioning of Turkey and "further conquests in the East."

WE trust the reports which reach us of the revival of the Santo Domingo annexation scheme, and of the determination of the friends of the Administration side of the question to force it to an open issue at the ensuing session of Congress, may turn out to be incorrect. It was hoped that the general and unmistakable expression of public opinion which was had last Spring in this matter, would have caused the advocates of the project to acquiesce in the popular verdict, and forego any further agitation of the subject at present. We do not suppose that the President will make any fresh effort in that direction, and it is reported that the new treaty will provide for the payment by private persons of the debt of the Republic. The country, however, is in no condition to profit by annexation at present, even if we were to get the island for nothing. The catastrophe which has destroyed Chicago, and the conflagration which has wrapped in its fiery folds vast territories of the Northwest, have swept out of existence hundreds of millions of accumulated wealth, and put a strain on the country which will severely test its utmost powers of endurance and recuperation. Just now the spirit of feverish speculation which lies at the bottom of this San Domingo project is of all others the very spirit to be avoided. We are suddenly called to confront a monetary crisis of the most momentous character, and it is of the very first importance that our whole energies be bent to the recovery of our financial and commercial interests from the severe blow inflicted on them. The annexation of San Domingo is a political project as well as a speculation. The restoration of the country to a normal and healthful condition of finance and business is a paramount necessity. The former can wait.

LET us hope we may never again in Pennsylvania have occasion to refer to a subject as painful and humiliating as that of the burial in Philadelphia, yesterday, of OCTAVIUS V. CATTO, principal of the Colored High School, of that city, deliberately and wantonly murdered on election day, for no crime except that of being a member of the race whom his murderer hated and despised. This man was in some respects one of the most remarkable men of the country. He was a most accomplished scholar and educator, and an excellent linguist, with intellectual endowments of an altogether uncommon order. Several positions of responsibility had been offered him by the President, but declined on the ground that his services were needed by his own people at home, of whom he was an honored and trusted leader. It is probable that his life was worth more to the community in which he dwelt than a score of the politicians whose rage at their impending defeat provoked the riots and the murders which grew out of them, but that is not the question. Whether lofty or lowly, influential or without influence, every law abiding citizen of the country is entitled to the protection of its laws, and this protection must at all hazards be given. It is gratifying to know that a deep and general feeling of indignation exists among the people of Philadelphia at the cowardly and infernal deed, and that it is likely the proofs of the murder will be thoroughly fastened on its perpetrator. But this wretch was in a sense as much a victim as was the gentleman and patriot whom he slew. Back of the infamous agent stood the malign forces which impelled him, and it is against these that we utter our voice; while to their undying shame be it spoken, every Democratic member of the Philadelphia City Council, except one, refused to serve on the committee appointed to attend the funeral of Professor CATTO. We leave it for others to judge of what would be the status of the colored race should the party to which these inhumans belong succeed to National power.

SIGNIFICANCE OF THE DISASTER.

All competent readers must have been struck with the good sense and moderation which marked most of the sermons concerning the great Chicago calamity, which appeared in the COMMERCIAL of yesterday. While recognizing, as became religious men, the hand of the moral Governor of the universe in the terrible event, and while taking occasion to emphasize human responsibility to Him, the preachers did not fail to make due reference to those general and inexorable physical and moral laws in accordance with which this world is ruled. In the discourses there was little disregard or forgetfulness of the mystery in which even revelation leaves disasters of the kind, while the subject was for the most part treated with the charity and reserve enjoined equally by Christian ethics and Christian philosophy. In contrast with the wild ravings or the sullen despondency of even educated heathens in the review of such a calamity, the sermons well illustrated the intellectual as well as the moral advantages imparted by the Christian system.

Dr. JACOBUS, remarking that "we live in a time of public calamity," referred to "the wars, famines, pestilence, earthquakes, floods and fires which have desolated the earth of late as never before in so brief a period." In view of these desolations one is naturally reminded of the fact, first pointed out, we believe, by NIEBUHR, that the close of one great historical age and the beginning of another have usually been distinguished by such disturbances of the common order. Thus, as he says, "the undecided twilight between two periods, which leaves the historian in doubt whether he has to do with morning or with evening twilight, has often been made memorable by destructive epidemic diseases." Thus, the dying out of Greek civilization, the death-throes of the Roman Empire, the appearance of Mohammedanism, the Reformation, and the discovery of America—each of these epochs was marked by the prevalence of wide wasting diseases, some of them new. However vain the attempt to explain the connection between things so unlike and so apparently independent of each other the fact is certainly curious. At present the impression is almost universal, the indications are countless that the world has entered upon a new period most obviously distinguished from all foregoing ages. The discoveries, inventions, and general progress of the last fifty years are alone sufficient to mark out the new age, and these may seem almost insignificant, and the present generation may seem to have been in the mere dawn, to the people of the day, fifty or a hundred years hence. To them also the numerous and various physical and moral convulsions, and the manifold fearful calamities of which we hear from different parts of the earth, may appear to have been the proper though inexplicable accompaniments of the twilight time in which we now exist.

It may, however, be well, when thinking about the recent disaster so near us, to guard against an exaggerated impression of its relative magnitude. After all, it was chiefly property that perished in Chicago, and few human lives were destroyed. In comparison, therefore, not only with such a catastrophe as that of Lisbon in 1755, where 60,000 human beings were swallowed up, but with such a tragedy as that of Caraccas in 1812, where "one minute of earthquake sufficed to bury amid the ruins of churches and houses, nearly 10,000 souls," the Chicago fire cannot but appear relatively insignificant. Equally just is the same conclusion when the calamity is thought of in connection with the desolations of which Persia has been the scene within the last five or six months. Merely alluding to the ravages of cholera by which the population of several provinces has been decimated, the city of Tauris or Tabreez, which had suffered most by the pestilence, was lately visited by a tempest with inundations, by which a large area of country was turned into desolation, and many thousands of men, women and children perished. And to estimate the disaster in its real character, we must know that neither Christian charity nor sound views of economy, minister relief to the sufferers, even where the means exist. In fact, Mussulman pride in the Persian Government has refused offers of assistance made by Great Britan and Russia.

AMONG THE MORMONS.

Notwithstanding the reported fact that the chiefs of the Mormon Church are quietly submitting to the aggressive proceedings of the Gentiles against their offensive customs, a good deal of anxiety on the subject prevails east of the mountains. Such concern seems to be founded upon the recollection of the decision and violence with which, many years ago, in the time of BUCHANAN's administration, the same Mormon leaders repelled foreign interference with their affairs, and prepared to resist it by force of arms. But times are changed. Then BRIGHAM and his brother Elders were younger and fuller of energy than now; there was no railroad to facilitate the transportation of troops and munitions of war. They well knew that in spite of disparity of numbers, the National Government, in an armed conflict with the Saints would labor under material disadvantages, which would render the task of subjugating them one of extreme difficulty. And those who call to mind the Mormon sermons and speeches of those days take into account another circumstance. The Mormon leaders evidently were completely under the influence of the same delusion regarding the character of the Northern people, which possessed the people of the South before the war. It was believed that they were so devoted to mere money-getting and so dominated by mere material interests, that, though they might threaten and declaim, they would never either fight or incur heavy expenditure for a mere idea, or in vindication of an ethical principle. Of this delusion the Mormons have been completely disabused by the late war, and feel that their whole safety depends upon preventing the dispute from coming to extremities. It is certain also, that a man of YOUNG's sagacity, by this time perceives that his institutions cannot long survive him. In the actual struggle with the United States officials, his whole object is and will be to temporize with the view of maintaining his own power and things as they are, during the remainder of his life. General DE TROBRIAND, in command of the Government troops at Salt Lake City, writes that he believes the situation in Utah much less menacing than abroad it seems to be supposed, and says that "in fact the excitement is greater outside the territory than it is in the city of Salt Lake." He adds that "the Mormons are brought up in obedience and discipline, and are entirely under the control of their chiefs."

> "If the latter had been foolish or imprudent enough to attempt a violent resistence and to drive the people into that way, the difficulty might have been serious, though in any case the result would not have been doubtful. But the people would have been dangerous, and a sanguinary repression might have become necessary. A quite different policy has been fortunately adopted, and for the same reason that the Mormons might have been led to offer open resistance, they will remain quiet upon the advice of their chiefs."

If, however, YOUNG should be accused of murder, though even in that case he might not resist arrest, Gen. DE TROBRIAND feared intense excitement among the Mormons; an excitement which, in the event of his condemnation, might lead to violent resistance to execution of the sentence. But it is to be hoped that matters will not be carried to any such extremity. However clearly the Mormon chief may have been guilty of the highest crime known to the law, his acts of the kind were undoubtedly complicated by circumstances connected with his headship of the Mormon sect, which render it difficult to proceed against him as against an ordinary criminal. If an unavoidable consequence of such a process should be to kindle into flame the fanaticism of his followers and involve a civil war in the territory, justice would certainly seem to be purchased at too dear a rate. Better that the aged criminal should be permitted to die in peace than that his punishment should appear to the Mormon multitude a mere act of revenge, as in their eyes it would impart to his memory an additional consecration in the crown of martyrdom. On the other hand, the chief left to die a commonplace death, and the sect left to the influences of Gentile civilization, the result can not fail to be the early disintegration of Mormonism.

The Swiss Confederation.

Sunday, the seventeenth day of September, was observed by our sister republic, the Swiss Confederation, in a manner which merits mention even at this late date. We refer to what is denominated the "Federal Fast," which so far as we can perceive seems to resemble a National Thanksgiving in this country, more nearly than any other custom of either the old world, or the new. It appears to be an established Swiss institution, handed down from the rather remote past; "a religious act recalling those perilous times, when the religion of the country was inseparable from the worship of the Divinity." Each of the twenty-two cantons, in its own way, through its executive power, proclaims the Fast, in accordance with the injunction of the Federal Council, which fixes the day for the celebration. In the late address issued by the Chancellor of Geneva in the name of the Executive, various reasons for gratitude to God are mentioned, and the people are summoned by their conduct to render themselves worthy of the benefits which they continue to enjoy. The spirit of harmony and conciliation prevailing among the members of the Confederacy is especially emphasized. Notwithstanding the exceeding diversity of governmental forms and the great varieties of religious belief existing in the various cantons, the day, the 17th of September, is said to have been religiously observed by the entire population. In fact, the day, it is alleged, is always thus regarded, even the most hirsute and infidel ultra-democrats or radicals, as they are called in Switzerland, treating it with respect, and their newspapers maintaining a silence of good taste concerning its religious character, as "every one understands that this Federal Fast is an act of union, a touching symbol, in which all should share, and which reanimates that ancient religion of the country still so living in Switzerland though so dead in France."

A New Source of Wealth.

The sulphuret of iron, or iron pyrites, commonly known as the covering of coal, lead and other mineral veins, and called among miners the "iron hat," has not hitherto been generally in this country considered of any economic value, although considerable quantities are used in England and Germany in the manufacture of sulphuric and nitric acids, and for other purposes not commonly understood. It has lately been ascertained, however, that it is an indispensable material in the manufacture of caustic soda, of which large quantities are imported annually into the United States from Great Britain, but of which none is made here. It is also stated, incidentally, that in its combination and chemical reactions with lime and salt, new products are formed, such as copperas, alum, chloride of lime, as well as caustic soda, all of which are far more valuable than the raw material. These manufactures are very profitable when the materials can be obtained cheaply and in large quantities. Enormous deposits of this mineral exist in certain portions of Missouri and other States, and we have no doubt that this heretofore overlooked element of wealth will be developed to the great profit and advantage of the country.

In view of the fact that Tweed is already re-nominated for the Senate; that he stamped his imprimatur on all the doings of the State Democratic Convention and that, so far from being shunned, the influence of Tammany is courted and deferred to throughout the Empire State, the Nation reiterates its previously expressed opinion that the infliction of summary punishment upon them will be found to be the only effectual means whereby the people of New York can rid themselves of their oppressors. It is sincerely to be hoped that no necessity for such a proceeding may arise. When, however, we take into consideration that Tweed, notwithstanding his numberless crimes against honesty, and his detection and exposure—continues to laugh in the face of the community which he has plundered, and that the men who are confederated with him are as insolent and defiant toward the people as they are slavish and servile toward their "boss," it is by no means impossible that the contingency which the Nation contemplates may yet arise. Should Tammany succeed in its desperate conspiracy to oust Mr. Green from the Controllership, and regain possession of the Treasury, there is no doubt that a crisis of the gravest character would be provoked. At present there appears to be a likelihood that the robber gang may get their deserts by due process of law. When this anchor of the people fails, it will be time enough to think of the other resort.

GENERAL AND PARTICULAR.

A large number of thieves and burglars, and the worthless characters in general who have made Chicago their headquarters, have been driven away by the great fire and the orders of General Sheridan. They will seek refuge in other cities, and the Chief of Police of Cincinnati, expecting a good proportion of them to take up quarters there, has issued orders to the patrolmen to stop and question all persons found on the streets after ten o'clock at night. This order is considered absolutely necessary, notwithstanding the fact that it may put a large number of honest persons to great inconvenience.

Three co-operative club stores have been successfully started in Danvers, Mass. The articles sold are groceries and provisions. Each family upon joining the club is required to pay in $10. Pork, sold elsewhere at 14 cents per pound retail, the families obtain at 10 cents; and tea, costing elsewhere $1 25 per pound, is sold for 90 cents. The stores in the town have put down their prices to as near wholesale as possible, in order to break up the club stores, but unsuccessfully.

Many strange stories of the discovery of bones of extinct races have been circulated and afterwards disproved. In Virginia, between Weldon and Garysburg, some laborers are said by the Virginia newspapers to have found a catacomb of skeletons, supposed to be those of Indians. The skulls are nearly an inch in thickness; the teeth filed very sharp, and the enamel perfect. The bones were of great length, and the stature of the men must have been "eight or nine feet." Sharp stone arrows, stone mortars and the bowls of pipes were also found. If these remains do not belong to a race of Cardiff giants, they are certainly most important discoveries.

A leading English paper declares that "our races are no longer as interesting as they once were," and the "young men of rank, fortune and character who join and support horse racing are already becoming fewer and fewer every year;" while the old Admiral desperately declares that "so long as these islands hold their head above water, horse racing will never cease." The young aristocrats who now frequent the turf are wild, reckless bloods, given over irrevocably to riotous living, and most often becoming the easy victims of sporting "rings." Even so startling an example as that of the poor, silly young Marquis of Hastings seems to have had little effect to deter these young men from following in his steps. In short, the higher classes begin to perceive that the bad influences of the turf far outweigh the good, and so are undoubtedly withdrawing from its patronage.

It has been determined by the German Government not only to give German names to all the cities, towns and villages, in Alsace and Lorraine, now having French appellations, but also to change the French titles of forts and fortified places. The forts around Metz, now under repair, are first to be re-christened, and Fort St. Julian is to be called Fort Moltke. The martle slab recording the construction of this fort under Napoleon III, in 1867, is to bear the following amended inscription: "Commenced in 1867, in defiance of, and completed in 1871, in defense of Germany."

An immense magnet has recently been constructed for the Polytechnic Institution at Hoboken, consisting of eight metallic spools, twenty-one and a half inches in diameter by nine and a quarter inches long. Its total weight is about 1,600 pounds, nearly twelve times heavier than the celebrated magnet constructed by Prof. Henry of the Smithsonian Institute at Washington. Prof. Mayer has estimated its lifting force at between thirty to fifty tons, or nearly five times more powerful than that used by Professors Faraday and Tyndall in their famous researches and experiments.

The latest invention is an automatic Irishman, a contrivance for carrying hods of bricks and mortar to the high walls of buildings in course of construction, by means of man-power and cranks. The machine does everything the Irishman does—except it is incapable of voting, and hence is not likely to be used on the public buildings of New York city.

An English custom is a handbell-ringing contest. The competition for this year took place at the Zoological Garden, in Bellevue, a fortnight ago; special excursion trains were run from various parts of Lancashire, Staffordshire and Yorkshire, and about twenty thousand persons were admitted into the Gardens in the course of the day. Fourteen bands entered, and prizes were won ranging from £2 to £14.

PERSONAL.

The Rev. William Bell White Howe has just been elected Assistant Bishop of South Carolina. Many years ago, when he was a junior at the University of Vermont, a burlesque programme of the Junior Exhibition was circulated, in which the classic nomenclature of the triennial catalogues was adhered to in a way that set the town in a roar. In that programme the future Bishop appeared as Gulielmus Tintinnabulus Candidus Quomodo.

Two sons of Darwin, the renowned author of "The Origin of Species," who have been "doing" California and the Yosemite lately, are delighted with the great State and its marvels of scenery. After spending a few weeks in the Atlantic States they will return to England.

The social customs of San Francisco are peculiar. A lady writes to the Chronicle of that city to complain that at social gatherings the gentlemen all get intoxicated, and are, therefore, unfit company for the opposite sex. Whereupon that journal cites it as a well-known fact that in what is termed the best society, at parties and balls given at private houses, there is a room set apart for gentlemen where brandy and champagne flow in abundance, and where the visitors may engage in "monte" and "draw poker" for unlimited amounts of money.

The following is the salutatory of an Oregon editress: "We have served a regular apprenticeship at working—washing, scrubbing, patching, darning, ironing, plain sewing, raising babies, milking, churning and poultry raising. We have kept boarders, taught school, taught music, written for the newspapers, made speeches, and carried on an extensive millinery and dressmaking business. We can prove by the public that this work has been well done. Now, having reached the age of thirty-six, and having brought up a family of boys to set type, and a daughter to run the millinery store, we propose to edit and publish a newspaper, and we intend to establish it as one of the permanent institutions of the country."

Mr. Daniel Home, the great spiritualist, now in London, is soon to be married for the second time, and will bring his bride, a Russian lady, to America. Justin McCarthy writes of Mr. Home: "I have been at spiritual seances, but, sinner and skeptic that I am, I was never allowed to see anything worth recording. But I have met Mr. Home, and heard him recite poetry of a half-humorous, half-tragic kind, and I thought the performance admirable. Home is rather a handsome, yellow-haired man, still quite young, with a quick, nervous manner, and a persuasive, penetrating eye. He is just the man to have female devotees. I believe he tried the stage without success; but in a drawing-room I never heard a more effective reader, or rather reciter, for he does not read.

GOSSIP OF ART AND LITERBTURE.

A gradual but very radical change in journalistic criticism of art and literature is being brought about. Criticism, indeed, by which we mean elaborate and forward discussion and expression of opinion, is fast being superseded by gossiping and sparkling notices. News about books and art instead of reviews of them, is now becoming the journalistic practice; leaving to the heavy artillery of the monthlies and quarterlies the work of inspection and review.

A life of Professor Morse, the venerable inventor of the Electric Telegraph, will shortly be issued by Harper & Brothers. It may not be generally known that the earlier years of his career were passed in artistic studies and pursuits, in which he attained considerable celebrity; and that to this day he is a munificent patron of meritorious painters and sculptors. Like the poet Pope, who said of himself that—

"He lisped in numbers, for the numbers came;"

The first artistic ventures of Morse were made while he was still in petticoats. "At the age of four years," says the illustrious octogenarian, in his genial way, "I was sent by my parents to a school kept by an old invalid lady, named Rand. The old lady was unable to remove from her chair, and ruled her unruly little family with a long rattan, which reached to the extremity of the small room that held her little flock. One of her favorite punishments was pinning the young culprit to her own dress. My first essay at painting, or rather drawing, was rather discouraging to a young painter, my canvass being a chest of drawers and my pencil a pin, while my subject was the old lady's face. For this æsthetic effort my reward of course was an unwilling attachment, by a large pin, to the dress of the old lady, which pin, however, unfortunately gave way in my frantic struggles for freedom, and I retreated, I remember, with a considerable portion of the old lady's dress, to the further part of the room, not, however, beyond reach of the pitiless rattan, which descended forthwith with rapid whacks upon my devoted shoulders."

His acquaintance with sculpture was not made until many years afterwards, while painting his celebrated picture of the "Death of Hercules." Falling from his drawn copy to catch a certain desired effect, the idea struck him to model the figure in clay and draw it from that posture; which he did, to his own complete satisfaction and that of his friends. The model being subsequently shown to Washington Allston and Benjamin West, the surprised and gratified friends insisted that he ought to prosecute the art professionally. To a certain degree, we suppose, every painter is a sculptor also. But Morse is as inflexibly incorruptible as superbly gifted; and we believe he has never since, throughout all his long and honorable life, attempted to chisel anybody or anything.

Speaking of art and artists, a most admirable engraving, by one of the most eminent of English engravers, has just been completed of Boughton's historical painting, the "Return of the Mayflower," which reproduces the scene so vividly described by Longfellow in his poem of "Miles Standish," when the pilgrims stand gazing at the lessening sails as they creep slowly to the horizon. The historical and poetic associations of the work will, of course, commend it to popular attention, but aside from these qualities of association the engraving is said to be a poem in itself; having all the dreamy grace of the low rhythm of night wind, in its low lines of barren coast, its receding ship, and its isolated figures contemplating the departure of the only means of communication between them and their native land. It is sure to be one of the artistic successes of the season.

A characteristic feature of Shakspeare, and which belongs to no other poet, in anything like a similar degree, is that he constantly reminds one of the Bible. Wherever a passage occurs to memory, the origin of which is uncertain, it is almost invariably concluded that it must belong either to the Bible or the great bard. The following curious parallel passages, collated by a student of the "Sweet Swan of Avon," may be cited in proof of the foregoing statement. For instance:

Othello—"Rude am I in my speech."
Bible—"But though I be rude in speech."—2 Cor. xi. 6.
Witches in Macbeth—"Show his eyes and grieve his heart."
Bible—"Consume thine eyes, and grieve thine heart."—1 Sam. ii. 33.
Macbeth—"Life's but a walking shadow."
Bible—"Man walketh in a vain vain show." Ps. xxxix. 6.
Macbeth—"We will die with harness on our back."
Bible—"Nicanor lay dead in his harness." 2 Mac. xv. 28.
Banquo—"Woe to the land that is governed by a child."
Bible—"Woe to thee, O land, when thy king is a child." Eccles. x. 16.
Timon of Athens—"Who can call him his friend that dips in the same dish?"
Bible—"He that dippeth his hand with me in the dish, the same shall betray me."

Almost any number of similar instances might be quoted. Note, for instance, the resemblance between the Bible declaration that "The wicked flee when no man pursueth," and that of Shakspeare—

"Suspicion always haunts the guilty mind;
The thief doth fear each bush an officer."

While the third scene of the first act in the play of Troilus and Cressida is almost an exact paraphrase of Luke xxi: 25, 26.

The students of Chinese literature will be rejoiced to learn that the eminent Chinese scholar, Dr. James Legge, has ready for the press a translation of the last work of Confucius; the "Ch'un Ts'ew," which has sometimes erroneously been called "Confucius' History of his own Times." It contains the Annals of Loo, under the title of "Spring and Autumn," for two hundred and forty-two years, terminating only two years before his death. Confucius attached an unusual value to this work; but if Dr. Legge's judgment of it be correct, these Annals are "mendacious in the extreme." In writing them Confucius ignored, concealed, and misrepresented the truth upon principle. Confucius said that by the "Spring and Autumn" men would know him. It also seems that by it men condemn him.

The verdict of English critics has very frequently settled the standard of American authors in their own country, and it seems likely to do so again in the case of Joaquin Miller, "the poet of the Sierras." We have already pointed out the central defect of this writer; which is his incapacity to discern what may be called the spiritual truth of things, and his fatal habit of subordinating fidelity to nature to scenic effect. Hence we get a confused, kaleidoscopic mass of imagery and metaphor;

"Wild words wandering abused,
God's great gift of speech misused;"

But we do not get poetry. Strange, also, as it may seem, he is really weakest where popular opinion has pronounced him most strong. For vehemence is not power; and violence and impotence often go hand in hand. The following passage, in which he tries to express his intense hunger for fame—what is it but mere rhetorical flatulence?

"Dare!
I'd dare the curses of the sceptred kings!
I'd build a pyramid of the whitest skulls,
And step therefrom unto the spotted moon,
And thence to stars, thence to the central suns;
Then with one grand and mighty leap would land
Unhinder'd on the shores of the gods of old,
And sword in hand, unbarred and unabash'd,
Would stand forth in the presence of the God
Of gods; there, on the jewell'd inner-side
The walls of heaven, carve with a Damascus
Steel, highest up, a grand and titled name
That time nor tide could touch or tarnish ever.
Yes, anything on earth, in hell or heaven,
Rather than lie a nameless clod forgot,
Letting stern Time in triumph forward tramp
Above my tombless and neglected dust."

This is exactly of a piece with the grandiloquence of the Fourth of July orator who, apostrophising the sadly abused national bird, declared that it dipped its beak in the Atlantic ocean; wet its tail feathers in the Pacific; spread one wing over the Canadas, extended the other over the South American Republics, and grasped the whole continent in its claws. But poetic bathos is not less offensive to intelligent and cultured people than is spread-eagleism done into prose. We really do not, at least at this juncture, want any more literary ring-tailed roarers.

The famous "Venus of Milo," which during the siege of Paris was concealed in the cellars of the Prefecture of Police, has recently been extricated from its hiding place. It comes back to the light quite uninjured, but the dampness of the cellar has loosened the plaster which held together the separate pieces of marble of which it is composed. It appears that it was cut out of two large blocks, which were joined a little above the hip, and fastened by an iron staple within, the expansion of which has caused perceptible cracks in the surface. It is evident that these two pieces were originally set firmly one upon the other, for the surface of each is perfectly smooth; but that the artists who set up the statue in the Louvre pleased themselves by introducing, between the two blocks, little bits of wood which throw the upper part of the figure forward a little; the introduction being concealed by a covering of plaster intended to hide the joint. A perpendicular let fall from the chin of the Venus, as she is known to her modern admirers, touches the point of the foot of the supporting leg; were the little pieces of wood removed, the perpendicular line would fall, in accordance with the laws of Greek art as well as those of Nature, upon the instep. A French artist, whose specialty is the preservation and restoration of antiques, has called upon the members of the French Institute to pronounce whether the Venus shall resume the erect and correct attitude given her by her unknown maker, or still stoop to the artificial Greco-Franco bend forced upon her by modern restorers.

This reminds us that very beautiful women are quite seldom intellectual, or intellectual women very beautiful; the formation of their features, particularly the forehead, being always more or less masculine. Miss Landon, it is said, was rather pretty and feminine in the face, but Miss Sedgwick, Miss Pardoe, Miss Leslie, and the celebrated Anna Maria and Jane Porter the contrary. But while women will always continue to be admired for their beauty, rather than for their intellectual qualities or attainments, it is never so with men. Pope was awfully ugly; Dr. Johnson was no better; Voltaire was the ugliest man in all France, and he was the greatest favorite with the ladies. Women far more frequently prize men for their sterling qualities of mind than men do women. Dr. Johnson chose a woman who had scarcely an idea above an oyster. He thought she was the loveliest woman in existence, if we may judge by the inscription he left on her tomb.

Somebody has fished up a queer old New England book by a queer old New England preacher printed in 1833, entitled "The Farmer's Meditation, or Shepherd's Songs," which it is proposed to republish. The author was a New Hampshire elder, irreverently termed "Old Tom Randall," who died at the age of ninety, two years ago. Many of the rhymes sound like the rolling of pumpkins over a barn floor. The following couplet, warning the New England lassies against the wiles of the "Subtile Merchant," might have applied to Jim Fisk in the days of his pedlarshsp:

"Here Jane and Sue, and Bet and Kate—
He means your sense and pence to rake."

He indites four verses to his absent daughter, which may not be called exactly Byronic. He says:

"My child, you've left Etonian hills,
The purling streams and gurgling rills;
In Haverhill you now reside,
Hard by the sea's old rolling tide."

And so on. He is said to have been the identical genius who insisted on quoting Shakspeare's lines this wise: "There's a divinity which rough-hews our ends, shape them as we may!"

Great anxiety is felt among lovers of art with regard to the safety of some of the precious works contained in the Pitti Palace. Titian's "Venus," Raphael's "St. John," and other master pieces, some in the tribune and some in other parts of the gallery, are said to be suffering exceedingly from want of care. The tribune is a sort of airless cage, in which the precious Raphaels and other chef-d'oeuvres are imprisoned for the greater part of the time without any ventilation, and throughout the gallery excessive heat, cold and damp follow each other, and exert their deleterious effects upon the canvas, paints and panel, while nothing is done to repair their ravages. While these master-pieces of art are blistered and worn, and nothing is done for their reparation because the Treasury is low, the order has been given to splendidly repair some of the halls. There is grossness and blindness even in spirituelle Italy, you see.

Richard Henry Stoddard has long been very widely and favorably known as a writer of lyrics and ballads of great delicacy and gracefulness. In a late volume, however, "The Book of the East, and other Poems," Mr. Stoddard has essayed a higher vein; that of dealing with the strong and earnest realities of existence—the passions and purposes, the dreams and doubts—of full grown men and women. To a certain extent he has succeeded, but when he writes:

"By rock-ribbed hills and pensive vales
That stretch in shade between;
And by the soft-complaining brooks
That make the meadows green;"

We can but recollect that many years ago Bryant said in Thanatopsis:

"The hills
Rock-ribbed and ancient as the sun—the vales
Stretching in pensive quietude between;
The venerable woods—rivers that move
In majesty, and the complaining brooks
That make the meadows green."

And then we know that Stoddard's moonlight is borrowed from Bryant's sunlight, and ask ourselves whether he had not better have confined himself to a lower range. For by no possible process of imitation can he turn his own water into Bryant's wine.

An Anchor to Windward.

It is good seamanship, when there is reason to expect heavy weather, to drop an anchor to windward.

We are in the midst of the season of chills and fever. The sure preventive of this distressing malady is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. A course of that wholesome vegetable tonic will render an attack impossible. Take the hint and drop an anchor to windward.

Weak stomachs are most liable to be disordered late in the autumn, when the changes of temperature are marked and frequent. Hostetter's Bitters fortifies the stomach against the effects of these variations. Let dyspeptics make a note of the fact, and drop an anchor to windward.

The liver is more sensitive when the weather is continually alternating beneath the warmth of summer and the cold of winter than at any other period of the year. This is peculiarly the season of such alterations. Let the bilious remember that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is essentially an anti-bilious medicine, and drop an anchor to windward.

The wisest plan is to forestall evil. The next best thing is to arrest it. For disorders of the stomach, irregularities of the bowels and all periodical fevers, take, as soon as the complaint developes itself, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.

FINANCE AND TRADE

MONDAY EVENING, October 16, 1871.

The local money market has preserved a most remarkable equanimity through the late extraordinary crises, which has so convulsed the money center of the country. Whilst the condition of the New York banks show by their last statement that they are for the first time in the history of the national bank law below the limit of twenty-five per cent. prescribed by law, and are amenable to the penalties for such a violation, our banks have quite a surplus above the limit and are able to extend all needful accommodations to their regular customers. It is true they are not as well off as they were a few weeks ago, yet they are in good condition, and, should the fall rise in our rivers come soon, we will escape even the usual spell of closeness or stringency which sets in about this time and continues until the middle of November, and sometimes later.

—The Sunday edition of the Herald says: The weekly statement of the associated banks is extremely unfavorable, more so than was fully realized by the street, where the way had been paved for the bad statement by the banking movement of the past month. The banks have not only used up all they had of surplus reserve, but have actually encroached upon their reserve itself, and are now below the limit prescribed by the twenty-five per cent. law—the first time they have done so in the history of the national bank system. Until we have the official figures of the Clearing House next week, and the detailed statement of each bank, we are constrained to believe that the national banks have not dared to infringe this salutary law, and that the deficit in the maintenance of a full reserve lies with the State banks, which are not amenable to the law. Doubtless the failure of the Stuyvesant Bank was due to its being made a "scapegoat" by the national banks for the purpose of keeping up their reserve while tempting that institution to an undue expansion. The loss in specie for the week is about a million dollars, and in legal tenders about three and three-quarter millions. The decrease in loans is about only four and a half millions, and in deposits about seven and a half millions.

—The New York Financial Bulletin, speaking of the stock market on Saturday, says: The stock market was dull and steady until after the bank statement was made known, which certainly did not warrant an advance in prices. The cliques, however, took the opportunity to frighten the "short" interest, making Western Union the leader, and prices were bid up rapidly, Western Union advancing about 4 per cent. It is undoubtedly true that there is a large "short" interest in the market which is the mainstay of prices, and which can be used as this afternoon to effect sharp rallies. The report used in connection with the rally was that Commodore Vanderbilt had furnished securities on which £1,000,000 had been borrowed of a Canadian bank and that this money is to be used in sustaining Western Union and the Vanderbilt stock.

—The following table made up from dispatches received at J. W. Kennedy's Stock Rooms, Apollo building, No 80 Fourth avenue, shows the prices of Railway stocks, Gold, etc., at the various sessions of the New York Stock Exchange during the day:

PRODUCE AND GENERAL MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL,
MONDAY, October 16, 1871.

REMARKS.—We have nothing new to give our readers in relation to the general markets. Prices are quiet and firm, holders seemingly well pleased with the situation of affairs, and not disposed to make concessions to effect sales. Flour is held in abundant supply, sufficient to meet all home demand as well as shipping orders. Grain is arriving rather more freely and meets a ready market at quotations. Wheat is firm with an upward tendency. Groceries—An active trade demand is reported. The late advance in coffee is still maintained. Bacon and provisions continue to move along quietly, with inclination of prices evidently upwards. Butter—The market is better supplied and prices rule lower. Eggs are in fair supply, though prices are not lower. Cheese—The supply and demand are about equal, and regular sales made at unchanged prices. Apples—The arrivals are very heavy, and the market dull and drooping. Chestnuts are plenty and prices lower. Fruits are becoming scarce, and as a consequence prices are higher. Weather pleasant and waters low. We omit extended quotations.

New York Hop Market.

October 14.—The market is very firm for the better qualities, with a good demand for consumption. Sales have been made of 200 bales 1871 at 60@70c; and 300 do, 1870, 25@30c, cash.

We make the following extract from Mr. Emmet Wells's Weekly Hop Circular of October 12:

	bales.
Receipts of the week	3,019
Receipts, corresponding week last season	1,218
Total receipts since 1st September	7,760
Total receipts, corresponding season last year	7,966
Export clearances week ending September 30	none
Total exports since 1st September	1,478

COAL MARKETS.

LOUISVILLE.

October 14.—The market is nearly bare of Pittsburgh and Pomeroy coal, and prices are high in view of the poor prospect of a rise in the river; but some of the dealers have made arrangements for the regular delivery of coal by rail from Ohio county, Kentucky, and Brazil, Indiana. Quotations are as follows—delivered: Kentucky coal, 24c per bushel; Brazil coal, 24c; Pomeroy coal, 28c; Pittsburgh coal, 32c.

Printing Cloths.

The Providence Journal says: Market firm for extra goods on hand at 8½c; for standards, on hand, 8¼c; for common, on hand, 8c. Some of the printers have been selling a few goods the past week. The following are the sales of the week.

2,000 pieces 52x50, private terms, for October.
500 do 64x64, 7¾c, seconds.
5,000 do 64x64, 8c, standards, early in the week.
13,000 do 64x64, 8¼c, standard at close of the week
2,000 do 64x64, 8½c, extra, sold Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

22,000 pieces.
October 8th, 1870, 64x64, extra, sold for 7¼c.

ALLEGHENY LIVE STOCK MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL,
MONDAY, October 16, 1871.

Cattle.

The arrivals by the different railroads centering at the Union Yards were seventeen cars or 340 head. In addition to these there were large droves from Washington, Lawrence, Greene and Butler counties, and also Ohio, making in all between 1,000 and 1,200 head of cattle on sale this morning. The run was the heaviest that has been this season, and the offerings largely in excess of the demand. The quality of the stock on sale was generally good, although there were some stock and thin cattle on sale. The market opened up slow and dull and continued so until the close. The butchers were evidently disposed to purchase cattle at their own figures or not at all, and they suceeded in getting all wanted at the lowest prices that have ruled in Allegheny for at least ten years. Most of them purchased cattle ahead, and so long as the arrivals are as heavy as they have been for some time past, the markets will rule low, as butchers have a supply on hands and it is very hard to advance the market when such is the case. Quite a large number of cattle were left unsold, some of which were driven to the country, and the balance sent to East Liberty for wholesale. To-day there were quite a number of farmers in the market, inquiring for stock cattle, of which class there were a good many on sale. Some sales were made but at very low prices, and there was evidently to much difference between buyers and sellers on this class, as the sales did not foot up what they would have done had buyers taken hold freely. The market on the whole was a very unsatisfactory and unprofitable one for those who had cattle on sale, and we have to notice an unusual amount of growling from drovers about hard markets. It looks as if matters will continue so until the supply of grass cattle, which are coming on the markets now very freely, get worked off. The following are the ruling prices for the different grades of cattle as sold this day: Extra, 1,200 to 1,500 lbs steers, $5 75; prime, 1,200 lbs steers, $5 25 to $5 35; good, 1,000 to 1,100 lbs steers, $4 50 to $4 75; medium, $4 00 to $4 25; common, $3 25 to $3 75; bulls $2 00; cows and heifers dull from $2 50 to $3 50; stockers, $2 87 to $3 50.

Sheep.

The number of sheep on sale this morning was about 1,200 head, and in quality about the same as last week's offerings. The market opened up fair and continued so until the close. The number on sale, although not large, was equal to the demand, and sales were made at about last week's prices. At about eleven o'clock the market was over and very few left unsold. The following are the sales as reported by the various dealers:

Adam Eckert sold 67 head Butler county sheep and lambs. Sheep at prices from $2 00 to $4 00 per head; lambs from $2 00 to $4 00 Also 54 head Beaver county sheep from $2 00 to $3 50, and 54 lambs from $2 00 to $3 00.

IRON MARKETS.

NEW YORK.

October 14.—There has been no movement of note in the market for either Scotch or American pig, the demand being entirely for small parcels, to meet the immediate necessities of consumers. The supply is limited, however, and prices are maintained; we quote Eglinton at $34 50@35; Glengarnock $35@36; Gartsherrie and Coltness $38; No. 1 American $37@38, and No. 2 $35@36. New rails have been rather quiet, but the stock is very much reduced, and prices are steady and firm; we quote English at $58@59 gold, and American $70@71 currency, at the works in Pennsylvania. 200 tons wrought scrap, to arrive and now due, sold at $38 50 currency. Refined bar continues in fair demand and firm at our quotations, though for a day or two, early in the week, there was a temporary pause in trade. Russia sheet is unchanged, No. 1 stained being quoted at 13@14c (185 packs sold), and sound, of which there are only a few packs here, 18, both gold—it is supposed that the last arrival is of the same character of those previously received. Common sheets are steady at previous quotations—3,000 bdls No. 2 galvanized sold on private terms.

LONDON, September 29.—Vivian, Younger & Bond report: For iron, makers are not desirous of entering into large engagements, as a further advance in price seems imminent.—Commercial List.

PHILADELPHIA.

October 14.—Pig iron is in very good request at full figures. Sales 700 tons No. 1 Lehigh crane foundry at $37@38, an advance; 1,000 tons No. 2 do foundry, at Hoboken, at $36; forge at $33@34; 200 tons Lebanon White at $31 50; 500 tons Glendon molted at $29 ₩ ton, at the furnace.

MANUFACTURED IRON.—Bar is selling in lots at 82@88 ₩ ton.

BLOOMS.—Are nominal in value.

SCOTCH PIG.—Sells in lots at $37 for Garbsherrie, and $36 for Glenarnock.

NAILS.—Sell at $4 50 per keg.

ANCHORS AND CHAINS.—Are steady. Sales of the former at 7½c, and the latter at 5⅛c ₩ lb.—Price Current.

Pig iron continues firm at $37@38 for No 1 foundry and $35@36 for No 2, with sales of 2,000 tons in lots. Bar iron commands $82@88 ₩ ton, and nails $4 50 ₩ keg. WOOL MARKETS.

NEW YORK.

October 4.—The market remains quiet, but in other respects there is no change to note. The supply of all descriptions is moderate, and as holders are not anxious to realize, full rates are maintained. The transactions have been confined entirely to parcels to supply the immediate wants of manufacturers, who are unwilling to meet the advanced views of holders to any extent, and the market closes quiet but strong at quoted rates. The sales are 50,000 lbs fleece at 56@63c; 55,000 lbs and XX Ohio, 62@65c; 15,000 lbs X and XX Michigan, 61@62½c; 5,000 lbs Wisconsin, 50c; 6,000 lbs short extra pulled 48@52½c; 25,000 lbs super pulled 60@65c; 13,000 lbs Oregon, 53@55c; 18,000 lbs spring clip California, 38@40c; 10,000 lbs tubwashed, 74c; 250,000 unwashed Buenos Ayres, 29@31c; 80,000 lbs Montevideo, 35@37c; 5,000 lbs Smyrna, 42c; 2,000 lbs pulled Mestiza, 78c; 170,000 lbs cape 37@41c.—Commercial List.

PHILADELPHIA.

October 14—The demand from the manufacturers and dealers has improved, and in some instances, advanced prices have been obtained. Domestic fleece is in light stock. Fine wools are attracting more attention. About 200,000 lbs changed hands. The current rates are: Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia superfine Saxony fleece 62@67c; full blood merino fleece 60@62c; three-quarter blood merino fleece 60@62c; half blood fleece 53@65c; quarter blood fleece 62@64c; common fleeces 58@62c. New York, Michigan and Indiana—full blood merino 59@60c; three-quarter blood merino fleece 59@60c; half blood fleece 60@62c; quarter blood fleece 59@60c; common fleece, 55@58c. Tub washed—Choice selected—73 to 75c; well washed 70 to 74c; fair ordinary 68 to 70c; low or burry 55 to 65c. Domestic pulled—City short Merino 50 to 55c; city No. 1 59 to 61c; western 55 to 58c.—North American.

Baltimore Coffee Market.

October 14.—The coffee market has been greatly excited through the week, and the transactions have been unprecedentedly large, the sales and resales adding up about 63,000 bags, the value of which is upwards of a million and a half dollars, gold. Prices have advanced since the close of last week 1c per pound, gold, and the tendency is still upward. The sales have been largely speculative, but the consumptive demand is active, and the stock here is being rapidly reduced. The sales by the importers comprise some 23,000 bags from various cargoes, and we note also sales from second hands of 40,000 bags do., all at from 14⅜ to 15⅛c, gold, in bond. We quote at the close as follows, viz: Rio in bond as ranging from 14½@15⅛c for fair to prime cargoes and invoices, and duty paid at from 17 to 19½c, all gold. Receipts this week have been 14,107 bags Rio, but the stock to-day in first hands is only 5,000 bags. The stock in second hands is, however, estimated to be about 70,000 bags, more than half being held, it is said, by two houses. We give below the last Rio telegram:

New Sugar and Molasses.

A New Orleans dispatch says: The Bradish Johnson, Captain Redovich, bought from "Orleans" plantation, John Hathers, the first fifteen hogsheads of new sugar this season. The sugar is of the finest quality. The Bradish Johnson also brought up from the same place twenty-five barrels of new molasses. During the year 1870–71 there came to this city from Red River 285,000 bales of cotton, and from the Ouachita river 150,000 bales. The total receipts of this staple from these two streams was, therefore, 435,000 bales, or about 30 per cent. of our total receipts. During the previous year we received out of the former river 275,000, and out of the latter 125,000 bales—together 400,000 bales.

STOCKS

Irregular and weak, and an unsettled feeling prevailed. There was a sharp advance in Western Union on Saturday, and many stories afloat to-day in regard to borrowing large amounts of money to buy stock failed to check the downward course of the general market. The decline to day was particularly marked in Pittsburgh, Northwestern, Rock Island, New York Central, Lake Shore and Western Union. Reading was the exception to the general weakness, and has been strong all day. The market closed dull and very weak.

Boats Departing This Day.

Brownsville and Geneva morning boat 8 A. M., evening 5 P. M.

Geneva, West Virginia, Donaldson, 3 P. M.

THE weather yesterday was cool but otherwise pleasant. Our rivers are again on the decline, with two feet eight inches on the marks and about two inches more at Glasshouse.

THE Mollie Moore received 700 bales of cotton at Memphis.

THE Vicksburg packets announce their inability to take freight southward until further notice.

THE carpet which was bought, but not paid for, for the steamer Great Republic, was burnt up in the Chicago fire. $5,000 was the value.

R. R. MARSH, of the steamer Nellie Peck, was married on the 4th to Miss Phoebe Marsh, of Pennsylvania. The marriage took place at Rochester, Minnesota.

A WRECKING boat has gone down to Shoo Fly Bar to take out the McGill's machinery. The present low stage of the river will enable the wreckers to get the engines out without much trouble.

CINCINNATI.—Saturday's Commercial says: The railroads are refusing to receive whisky here at the following rates: $2 52 to Memphis, $3 40 to New Orleans, and $3 45 per barrel to Mobile. How's that for high?

THE light draught packet West Virginia, Captain P. Donaldson, takes her departure this day, at 3 P. M., for Brownsville and Geneva. Passengers and shippers will bear this in mind. Captain S. R. Patterson is the agent, who will furnish all the necessary information.

THE Davenport Gazette says: But once since the treacherous white man came to this country has the Mississippi fallen so low in public estimation and in its own esteem as it has this season, and that was in 1864, when it was eight inches below its present mark.

A MEMPHIS dispatch of Saturday says: Captain Richard T. English, late river and commercial editor of the Appeal, died this morning, aged thirty-nine years. One of Brown & Jones's coal flats, containing 1,500 bushels of coal, sunk at the landing last night. Loss $500.

FREIGHTS FROM ST. LOUIS.—The Memphis Packet Company increased their rates to Memphis as follows: Flour 80c, pork $1 40, whiskey $1 75, lime 90c, bacon, lard, etc., 70c, ale 75c per half barrel, hay 50c, dry goods 75c, light pound 40c, heavy 65c per 100 pounds.

THE United States mail packets on the slack water leave daily at eight A. M. and five P. M. These boats have superior accommodations, and are in charge of careful and attentive officers. For further information call on Captain A. S. Carlisle, on the wharfboat, at the foot of Ross street.

OFFICIAL SURVEY OF THE OHIO RIVER FROM PITTSBURGH TO CAIRO.—At the request of our river friends we have published a third edition of this important table, with various improvements. It can be obtained at the COMMERCIAL office at ten cents per copy, or three copies for twenty-five cents.

EVANSVILLE.—The Journal says: If the river men of Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and Louisville had made money enough last year to have continued the use of their favorite beverages, gin and sugar, old bourbon and lager beer, navigation might now be tolerable. But being compelled to resort to water, they have destroyed the commerce of the Ohio.

AN OUTRAGE THAT SHOULD BE STOPPED.—Vicksburg charges boats ten dollars each way yet for the privilege of landing, and yet no one will remember, we believe, of a dollar of repairs ever being made upon the Vicksburg levee. In this time of progress and improvement boatmen will not feel contented until the Vicksburg Council abolishes the burden referred to.

ON A HIGH.—The Vermillion Advertiser says: The water rose higher in the Bayou Vermillion than any time since the great storm of 1855. The water in the Coulee, west of town, was two feet higher than it has been for five years. All communication between this Coulee and Lake Charles, and Washington, was stopped on Tuesday, on account of the high water. Bayou Courtableau rose fifteen feet from Monday to Tuesday, and Bayou Callehan, this side of Opelousas was higher than ever before known.

THE snagboat S. S. Thayer passed St. Joseph en route for the Mississippi and Arkansas rivers, Capt. Doyle commanding. The Thayer has been operating between St. Joseph and Omaha since June last, and has removed six hundred and forty snags from the river and cut away eight hundred or nine hundred trees from the caving banks of the river. With four or five years' more work the Missouri river can be entirely cleared of such obstructions.

ON the last down trip of the Bee, Captain Goll was out sounding at Turkey Island, and about a dozen country people came down to the bank of the river to witness the proceedings. Captain Goll having some St. Louis papers, fixed one with a stick and threw it on shore, saying that he presumed they would like to read the news. One and another of them answered no, they didn't want the news, and although the paper fell close to them, no one touched it, and shortly thereafter the train of delightfully ignorant Illinois peasants departed as silently as they had approached.

IMPORTANT.—Captain Dugan, of the wrecking boat, T. E. Eckert, after many years of thought, has perfected an apparatus for hoisting coal from sunken barges, which it is believed, will be of practicable utility and incalculable value. It is nothing more nor less than a coal pump, or rather a machine which, being attached to the pump such as is used upon the Eckert for raising steamers, will draw the coal from beneath the water and deposit it in a receiver, from which it is removed by sliding valves. In its removal the vacuum is never lost, and the pump may be constantly kept in motion while the supply of coal lasts. The proper steps have been taken to secure a patent upon the invention.

Hoofland's German Bitters,

A Bitters WITHOUT ALCOHOL OR SPIRITS of any kind, is Different from all others. It is composed of the pure juices, or VITAL PRINCIPLE OF ROOTS, HERBS and BARKS, (or, as medically termed, Extracts,) the worthless or inert portions of the ingredients not being used. Therefore, in one Bottle of this Bitters there is contained as much medical virtue as will be found in several gallons of ordinary mixtures. The Roots, &c., used in this Bitters are grown in Germany, their vital principles extracted in that country by a scientific Chemist, and forwarded to the manufactory in this city, where they are compounded and bottled. Containing no spirituous ingredients, this Bitters is free from the objections urged against all others; no desire for stimulants can be induced from their use; they cannot make drunkards, and cannot, under any circumstance, have any but a beneficial effect.

Hoofland's German Tonic

Was compounded for those not inclined to extreme Bitters, and is intended for use in cases when some alcoholic stimulant is required in connection with the Tonic properties of the Bitters. Each Bottle of the Tonic contains one bottle of the Bitters, combined with pure SANTA CRUZ RUM, and flavored in such a manner that the extreme bitterness of the Bitters is overcome, forming a preparation highly agreeable and pleasant to the palate, and containing the medicinal virtues of the Bitters. The price of the Tonic is $1 50 per Bottle, which many persons think too high. They must take into consideration that the stimulant used is guaranteed to be of a pure quality. A poor article could be furnished at a cheaper price, but is it not better to pay a little more and have a good article? A medicinal preparation should contain none but the best ingredients, and they who expect to obtain a cheap compound, and be benefited by it, will most certainly be cheated.

Known to the Medical world, and will eradicate diseases arising from impure blood, Debility of the Digestive Organs, or Diseased Liver, in a shorter time than any other known remedies.

The Whole Supreme Court of Pennsylvania Speak for These Remedies.

Who would ask for more Dignified and Stronger Testimony?

HON. GEORGE W. WOODWARD, formerly Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, at present Member of Congress from Philadelphia, writes: PHILADELPHIA, March 16, 1867. I find "Hoofland's German Bitters" is a good tonic, useful in diseases of the digestive organs, and of great benefit in cases of debility and want of nervous action in the system. Yours truly, GEO. W. WOODWARD.

HON. JAMES THOMPSON, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania. PHILADELPHIA, April 28, 1867. I consider "Hoofland's German Bitters" a valuable medicine in case of attacks of Indigestion or Dyspepsia. I can certify this from my experience of it. Yours, with respect, JAMES THOMPSON.

HON. GEORGE SHARSWOOD, Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania. PHILADELPHIA, June 1, 1868. I have found by experience that "Hoofland's German Bitters" is a very good tonic, relieving dyspeptic symptoms almost directly. GEORGE SHARSWOOD.

HON. WM. F. ROGERS, Mayor of the City of Buffalo, New York. MAYOR'S OFFICE, BUFFALO, June 22, 1869. I have used "Hoofland's German Bitters and Tonic" in my family during the past year, and can recommend them as an excellent tonic, imparting tone and vigor to the system. Their use has been productive of decidedly beneficial effects. WM. F. ROGERS.

HON. JAMES M. WOOD, ex-Mayor of Williamsport, Pa. I take great pleasure in recommending "Hoofland's German Tonic" to any one who may be afflicted with Dyspepsia. I had the Dyspepsia so badly it was impossible to keep any food on my stomach, and I became so weak as not to be able to walk half a mile. Two bottles of Tonic effected a perfect cure. JAMES M. WOOD.

REMEMBER THAT

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS

AND

WILL CURE EVERY CASE OF

MARASMUS,

OR WASTING AWAY OF THE BODY.

REMEMBER THAT

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN REMEDIES

Are the medicines you require to purify the Blood, excite the torpid Liver to healthy action, and to enable you to pass safely through any hardships or exposure.

DR. HOOFLAND'S

PODOPHYLLIN,

OR

SUBSTITUTE FOR MERCURY PILLS

TWO PILLS A DOSE.

The Most Powerful, Yet Innocent, Vegetable Cathartic known.

It is not necessary to take a handful of these Pills to produce the desired effect; two of them act quickly and powerfully, cleansing the Liver, Stomach and Bowels of all impurities. The principal ingredient is Podophyllin, or the Alcoholic Extract of Mandrake, which is by many times more powerful, acting and searching than the Mandrake itself. Its peculiar action is upon the Liver, cleansing it speedily from all obstructions, with all the power of Mercury, yet free from the injurious results attached to the use of that mineral. For all diseases, in which the use of a cathartic is indicated, these pills will give entire satisfaction in every case. They NEVER FAIL. In case of Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia and extreme costiveness, Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters or Tonic should be used in connection with the Pills. The tonic effect of the Bitters or Tonic builds up the system. The Bitters or Tonic purifies the Blood, strengthens the Nerves, regulates the Liver and gives strength, energy and vigor. Keep your Bowels active with the Pills, and tone up the system with Bitters or Tonic, and no disease can retain its hold, or ever assail you.

Recollect that it is DR. HOOFLAND'S GERMAN REMEDIES that are so universally used and highly recommended; and do not allow the Druggist to induce you to take anything else that he may say is just as good, because he makes a larger profit on it. These Remedies will be sent by Express to any locality, upon application to the PRINCIPAL OFFICE, at the GERMAN MEDICINE STORE, 631 ARCH STREET, PHILADELPHIA.

WASHINGTON.

Accounts of Disbursing Officers.

Discrepancy in the Freemen's Bureau

Important to Steam Tug Owners.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

WASHINGTON, D. C., October 16, 1871.

A Discrepancy of a Quarter of a Million.

The War Department has been busy since the Hodge defalcation in examining the accounts of the disbursing office. This led to a discovery of a discrepancy of a quarter of a million between the money reported by Gen. Bullock, the disbursing officer of the Freedmen's Bureau, as on deposit to his credit in the sub-treasury at New York and the amount actually found there during the investigation. This led to an order for his arrest, which, however, was suspended upon representations that he could account for the money. Bullock then made known that he had converted a quarter of a million into bonds and had them on deposit in the treasury. Upon examination there it appeared that fifty thousand were in his individual name as his private funds, and that he had been converting coupons from all and without accounting for them in his returns. His claim in defense is that he had suffered from paying forged bounties to colored soldiers, and used the proceeds of the coupons to meet second payments to the real claimants, instead of waiting for Congress for relief. Bullock claims that Gen. Spinner advised this, but Spinner denies it. The Freedmen's Bureau officers assert that Secretary Boutwell authorized it. This the Secretary denies, but says that so far as the matter was brought to his attention he had not regarded Bullock as acting with a criminal purpose. An investigation of the accounts of this officer is now in progress. Meantime an order of peremptory suspension has been issued.

The Hodge Defalcation.

Some discussion which followed the Hodge defalcation is springing up with renewed earnestness in the attempts of the various bureaus to shift the responsibility for the system of keeping accounts by which such irregularities can continue undiscovered for months.

The Supreme Court.

One of the earliest cases on the docket of the Supreme Court is the one that has already excited considerable interest in the West, and which is the United States, appellant, vs. Child, Fox, & Pratt, being an appeal from the Court of Claims. This is a suit on one of the well known Fremont contracts made when the latter commanded the department of the west, and the case was heard by a commission sent out to St. Louis by Cameron, then Secretary of War to investigate the affairs of that department, which cut down the claim more than one-third. The firm afterwards sued the Government in the Court of Claims and obtained a judgment of a hundred and sixty-three thousand dollars, and from this decision the Government takes the present appeal. Justice Nelson does not expect to attend the present session of Court.

Important to Steam-Tug Owners.

The Board of Supervising Inspectors of Steamboats, after a long consultation to-day, decided adversely to the request of the Western steam-tug owners, who desired to carry a greater pressure of steam than the law prescribes, on the ground that they were not in the same category as vessels that carried passengers. The Board having no authority in the premises, returned an answer that the law must be complied with according to its letter.

The Officials at the Treasury Department

Have to request that the Chicago people will not undertake to handle their burnt currency before sending it here, but to trust the matter to the honesty of the department to have the full amount made good to them. Where this money is handled too much the denomination cannot be identified, and consequently holders suffer loss thereby.

PROBABLE WAR WITH CHINA.

Admiral Porter expects a war with China, and has written a letter to the Secretary of the Navy, recommending an increase of the Asiatic Squadron, and the building of several gunboats for use in such an event, in the Chinese rivers.

THE BOARD OF SUPERVISING INSPECTORS OF STEAMBOATS

To-day, after consultation, decided against the request of western steam tug owners to carry a greater pressure of steam than the law prescribes for steamers carrying passengers.

Balster has been sentenced two years to the Penitentiary for killing Sonny James in February last.

THE MORMON TRIALS.

Arraignment of Brigham Young—The Case of Mayor Wells.

SALT LAKE, October 16.—Brigham Young appeared in court this morning, when the indictment for lascivious cohabitation was read to him, and upon the usual question of the clerk, he answered with marked seriousness, "not guilty."

The court-room was moderately crowded and there was no excitement. Brigham seemed much improved in health and confident in manner.

In the case of the Mayor, Daniel H. Wells, on a similar charge, the reading of the indictment was waived, and after the title of the case was announced, he, too, plead not guilty.

The defendants' counsel asked the Court to continue the cases until the next term. The prosecution opposed this, but said they were willing to give the defendants all the time necessary for preparation for trial. The motion was not acted upon, but will be taken up at an early day, probably to-morrow.

NEWS SUMMARY.

BY TELEGRAPH.

A sharp shock of earthquake was felt at Lake Village, N. H., yesterday.

The steamer America, from Bremen, arrived at New York yesterday.

The reading of the Bible has been suspended in the public school at Hunter Point, L. I., by order of the Board of Education.

Vanderhoff, the elocutionist, is not dead, as reported, but alive and well in Boston.

Halifax dispatches estimate the damage by the late hurricane at $200,000. The shores of Halifax harbor on Friday morning presented the appearance of wreck and ruin never seen before. The wharves were shattered, several vessels were high and dry, and others dismantled. Altogether, thirty vessels, mostly fishermen, suffered. Three men were drowned off the harbor while setting nets. The railroad track from Halifax to Bedford was damaged to the extent of sixteen thousand dollars.

Near Shelbyville, Ky., last Saturday, two negroes under arrest, charged with attempting to outrage two white women, were taken from the Sheriff's posse by about five hundred men, and hanged. Placards were then pinned to their clothes, warning all except the civil authorities against cutting them down, under penalty of the same fate.

An expedition to defend Manitoba from those terrible Fenians will leave Collingwood on Friday.

There has been a terrible gale all along the Canada lake coast, since Sunday night, doing great damage to property, and causing some loss of life.

Fourteen per cent. of all the fires in New York, it is said, are caused by kerosene.

William J. Gleason, a contractor on the Midland Railroad of New Jersey, is missing, with $30,000 in cash, and it is feared he has been murdered.

Lima, Peru, advices of the 28th ult. report rich gold discoveries at Huacho, sixty-three miles from Callao. Rich deposits of gold and copper are also reported in the vicinity of Iquiqui.

The corner-stone of the new postoffice building in Boston was laid yesterday. President Grant was present.

In New York on Saturday several negroes were sworn in as inspectors of election.

Hon. Seth M. Harris has published a letter denouncing Tammany.

The London Times of the 5th, states that the British authorities at Malta allowed slaves to be shipped on a British steamer for Constantinople.

The barn of the county poor house at Lancaster, Pa., was burned Saturday afternoon. Loss $10,000 to $15,000.

Chas. W. Harnden, an attachee of the Boston Evening Transcript, died Saturday.

The storm last Friday night was very severe in Nova Scotia and Cape Breton. The embankments were washed away in several places between Bedford and Halifax. It is not expected that trains can run this week. The telegraph wires are gone completely between these two places. The storm did great damage to the wharves and shipping at Halifax. There has also been considerable damage done at Sydney, but there are no particulars.

A dispatch from Halifax states that the heaviest hurricane known in twenty years occurred there on Friday evening. The tide rose two feet over the wharves. Many vessels were injured and several lives lost.

A London, Ont., dispatch of Saturday says: Three separate attempts were made to set fire to the south-eastern part of the city, including the Grand Trunk, Great Western and London, and part of the Stanley Railroad freight depots, oil refineries and stave factories. A car load of oil in a train of seventeen cars was set on fire. Another car on the siding close to the Western car shops and the Port Stanley Depot was first, and the Grand Trunk Railroad freight shed was also set fire to. In each case the fire was immediately discovered, and extinguished. A force of special watchmen have been engaged to guard against similar attempts in the future.

One of Barnum's Clever Tricks.

The temperance people of Buffalo gave Barnum an opportunity to advertise himself and his show, and well he improved it. He accepted an invitation to deliver a lecture on the subject of total abstinence, last Sunday afternoon, and put in an appearance at the appointed time before a crowded audience. During the lecture a fellow in the crowd became quite boisterous and troublesome. Barnum, fixing his eyes upon him, addressed him personally, and accused him of being under the influence of liquor, and informed him that if he could not keep quiet he must either go out of the hall or come upon the stage to be seen by the audience. Without further solicitation the noisy, drunken fellow left his seat and staggered upon the stage, when Barnum at once assured him he must be seated and keep quiet. He then directed the attention of his auditors to the subject before them, and assured them that he was a living illustration of the arguments he had been presenting. The victim swung his arms wildly about, and made the usual demonstrations of an inebriate, when the officers of the meeting deemed it prudent to remove him, and he was quietly conducted to the green room. The Express adds: "Those who know Barnum will not need to be told that when his troupe left the city this fellow was seen driving one of the show wagons. This is the kind of humbug that this clever Yankee likes to play upon the people."

Coal Famine in Cincinnati.

[From the Commercial, of Monday.]

Coal has advanced to such a price that it can be profitably brought to the city by rail from the mines of Southern Ohio. Even should we have immediate rains, sufficient to raise the water in the river to boating stage, it will be a fortnight or three weeks before supplies can reach this market from Pennsylvania. Something ought, therefore, to be done, and without delay, to avoid a "coal famine," and keep prices down at least to present rates. Thousands upon thousands of poor people can not command the means to pay for fuel when the cost exceeds seven or eight dollars a ton, and there will be great distress the moment the dealers, taking advantage of scarcity and a low river, put up the prices. We believe a fair article of coal can be laid down in Cincinnati by rail and delivered at a cost not to exceed five dollars and fifty cents a load, with a fair margin of profit to those who handle it. At any rate, measures should at once be taken to keep this prime article of necessity within the reach of those who have to economize their means to make "both ends meet."

AN intense rivalry for the commercial mastery of the great Mississippi Valley has existed between Chicago and St. Louis for many years. Referring to which fact and to the magnificent response of St. Louis in Chicago's hour of affliction, the Republican of the former city says: "Our people have at times felt as if Chicago had grown rich and strong upon the misfortunes of St. Louis, and that they were forced to wage a fierce contest with a powerful, and perhaps too reckless antagonist. Never was this rivalry at a higher pitch, this contest sharper or more unrelenting than Monday morning when the first news of the colossal fire arrived here. In an instant, and with a spontaneity which none who witnessed can ever forget, St. Louis turned her back upon the past, remembered nothing but the present, and stood by Chicago's side as though the two had been born of the same mother. All classes, from the millionaire to the day laborer, gave freely of their substance, and accompanied the gift with expressions of tender feeling infinitely more precious than gold."

THE European and North American Railroad takes its initial point at Bangor, Maine, and terminates at the St. Croix river, the dividing line between the United States and the New Dominion, where it is connected with the road leading to St. John, New Brunswick. In a very short time the link between St. John and Halifax, Novia Scotia, will be completed. With the opening of this new route, the time between New York and Liverpool will be shortened two days. The distance between Halifax and New York is nine hundred and forty-four miles, and from St. John to Halifax two hundred and sixty miles. President Grant and Cabinet and other distinguished persons will be present at the formal opening of the road, at Bangor, on the 16th, and, no doubt, the occasion will be a memorable one.

THE Mont Cenis tunnel has no ventilating shafts, and it was predicted that passengers would suffer great inconveniences from being compelled to inhale steam, smoke and mephitic air. These predictions have proved false, and a correspondent of the London Times, who has passed through the excavation in the cars, says that although the windows were open, there was no perceptible difference between the air within and that without the tunnel, while not the least discomfort was experienced from steam or smoke. The difference in the temperature could only be detected by a thermometer, which marked a few degrees of additional warmth in the tunnel. The average time to be allowed to trains for the passage through the mountain—nearly eight miles—when the line shall be in full operation, is calculated at twenty minutes.

A RELIGIOUS journal gives the following on the authority of a gentleman of unquestioned veracity: A parrot, belonging to a pious family, was generally taken out of the room when the members assembled for prayers, for fear he might take it into his head to join irreverently in the responses. One evening, however, his presence happened to be unnoticed, and he was entirely forgotten. For some time he maintained a decorous silence, but at length, instead of "Amen," out he came with "Cheer, boys, cheer." On this the butler was directed to remove him, and had got as far as the door with him when the bird, perhaps thinking that he had committed himself, and had better apologize, called out, "Sorry I spoke." The overpowering effect on the company may be more easily imagined than described.

THE New York Journal of Commerce says: The Washington Insurance Company was reported among the suspended companies, but its losses have proved to be less than at first supposed—not enough, it would appear, to absorb its large surplus; and its stockholders being men of large wealth, and cherishing this as a pet institution, have offered any amount that may be necessary to keep its guaranty fund above all suspicion.

THE New York Herald thinks that the seats of Simon Cameron and John Sherman in the United States Senate have been "leased for another term." The Herald probably don't know that in Pennsylvania there will be another election before the Senatorial election.

TWO DAY'S NEARER LIVERPOOL.

The Latest Great Railroad Achievement.

Two weeks hence President Grant and Cabinet, together with other distinguished persons, will visit Boston and assist in laying the corner-stone of the new postoffice, which will be done according to the rites of Masonry. From here the Presidential party will proceed to Bangor, Maine, and assist at the formal opening of the European and North American Railway, which has been completed to St. Johns, N. B. The occasion will doubtless be a memorable one. Uncle Sam and the representatives of John Bull may talk with each other across the dividing line, and utter lots of good things concerning the future progress of both countries. With the opening of this great railroad route from New York to Halifax two days' time will be saved to and from Liverpool, as the link to Halifax will be completed a few months later. The European and North American road is chartered both in the United States and Provinces, and the stock is divided between Americans and residents in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia. The American stockholders have built the line to the St. Croix River, the dividing stream between the United States and the New Dominion. From San Francisco to Halifax by rail is something to think of and soon to be realized.

A Singular Indian Tradition.

Among the Seminole Indians there is a singular tradition regarding the white man's origin and superiority. They say that when the Great Spirit made the earth he also made three men, all of whom were fair complexioned; and that after making them he led them to the margin of a small lake, and bade them leap in and wash. One obeyed, and came out of the water purer and fairer than before; the second hesitated a moment, during which the water, agitated by the first, had become muddied, and when he bathed he came out copper-colored; the third did not leap until the water became black with mud, and he came out with its own color. The Great Spirit laid before them three packages, and out of pity for his misfortune in color, gave the black man the first choice. He took hold of each of the packages, and having felt the weight, chose the heaviest. The copper-colored man chose the next heaviest, leaving the white man the lightest. When the packages were opened the first was found to contain spades, hoes and implements of labor; the second, enwrapped hunting, fishing, and warlike apparatusses; the third gave the white man pens, ink and paper, the engines of the mind—the means of mutual mental improvement, the social link of humanity, the foundation of the white man's superiority.

Panic Among Railroad Passengers.

As the train from the East approached St. Paul on the evening of the 7th, a fire was prevailing on the prairie in the vicinity, and from the appearance of things the passengers imagined that the whole city was in flames. As the train neared the railroad bridge, in the upper part of the city, the excitement increased, from the fact that the prairie or swamp on both sides of the track was a sheet of fire, and fears were entertained that the bridge would be destroyed before the cars could reach it. These anticipations were fortunately not realized as the train dashed gallantly across the bridge while the flame rushed wildly through the arches beneath them with a roar that made some of the sinners aboard think that they had just had a foretaste of the wrath to come. The bridge was not materially damaged.

THE Northern Central Railroad Company, with J. Donald Cameron as its President, has been exempt for several years from the payment of thousands of dollars due by it in tax to the State of Pennsylvania. It has paid but a nominal sum, about one hundred and twenty dollars. The Harrisburg Patriot says that this is a great fraud, and queries whether Mr. Montgomery Foster, the private secretary of Mr. Cameron, has been as valuable in this item of business as he was represented to be in the case of the Commonwealth vs. The Credit Mobilier.

CITY MATTERS.

Struck on the Neck.

Yesterday afternoon a drover was driving a flock of sheep along Butler street, when a number of boys annoyed both the drover and the sheep by shouting at them and throwing stones. This angered the man in charge of the sheep, and he picked up a piece of a brick and hurled it at the boys, striking one of them named Hurley on the neck, and knocking him senseless. The same lad fell off of a chestnut tree the other day, and was severely injured. At a late hour last night the physician in attendance pronounced the lad in great danger. No arrest was made.

Narrow Gauge Railroad from Allegheny City to Zelieonople and Harmony in Butler County.

A meeting of the Committee appointed at previous meetings, held at Perrysville and Harmony, was held at the house of Wm. Keown, at Perrysville, on the evening of the 13th of October at 7½ o'clock P. M., and an organization effected by electing Robert Swan, Esq., Chairman, and K. Marshall, Esq., Secretary.

The Committee of the Allegheny county termini of the road were all present together with Messrs. Dr. Wm. Irwin and Kennedy Marshall, Esq., from Butler county.

Reports of Messrs. Swan and Irwin relative to finances, set forth that the people were favorable for a preliminary survey, to ascertain the most practicable route, together with the probable cost of completing the same, &c.

It was decided to make arrangements as soon as possible for a survey between Allegheny City, Zelieonople and Harmony.

On motion Alex. Hilands was appointed a Committee to receive communications from Engineers, the same to be in writing, until the 21st inst., signifying their willingness to take charge of the survey—the Committee to report at an adjourned meeting.

Meetings favorable to this object were announced for Evansburgh, Butler county, at one o'clock P. M., and at Keown's in Perrysville, at seven o'clock P. M., of Saturday the 21st day of October inst., to receive reports of Committees and transact any other business that may be brought before the meeting.

CITY MATTERS IN BRIEF.

DEPUTY MAYOR NICHOLS had five common cases in his lock-up last night.

MARGARET HART made an information yesterday against Leopold Hart, charging him with assault and battery. Deputy Mayor Nichols issued a warrant.

IT IS presumed that work on Frankstown avenue will now be rapidly pushed along. The preliminary injunction granted was yesterday removed by Court.

SARAH WELSH and Mollie Birtz have cross suits of surety of the peace and assault and battery before Alderman O'Donnell.

THE Wheeling excursionists will meet the Pittsburghers at Cumberland to-day, and accompany them to Baltimore.

HUGHEY MURPHY was arrested last evening for creating a disturbance on Grant street. Mayor Brush will attend to him this morning.

OFFICER BOWDEN arrested William Comer upon a charge of larceny last evening. The accused was locked up for a hearing.

NANCY MOORHEAD has been informed against before Alderman O'Donnell, by Anna Walters, who alleges that Nancy threw her goods out of a window into the street.

ALDERMAN KOENIG wants Daniel Kennedy, the alleged passer of counterfeit money, fast driver, &c., to answer a charge of assault and battery. Daniel has considerable trouble on his hands just now.

LAST EVENING C. Naser appeared before Deputy Mayor Nichols, and made information against Henry Heiman, et ux charging them with disorderly conduct and being a nuisance to the neighborhood. Warrants were issued.

LAST evening about seven o'clock, officer Samuel Bowden arrested a boy named Patsay Colmer on a charge of stealing a ring from the jewelry store of J. Strouse, corner of Penn street and Scott alley. The matter will be investigated to-day.

YESTERDAY, BEFORE Deputy Mayor Nichols, Amelius Mehan made an information against Joseph Hart, charging him with the larceny as bailie of fifty dollars. It is alleged that Hart held the money in trust for Mehan and refused to return it when asked. Warrant issued.

GEN. JAMES A. EKIN and family leave the city to-day for San Antonio, Texas, where the General is stationed. He expresses himself highly pleased with his visit to his old home and friends, and returns to his duties with renewed health and vigor. Friends and acquaintances will unite in wishing him a safe and pleasant journey.

MARTIN HANEY made an information yesterday against Fred Meyer, before Alderman Humbert, charging him with felonious assault and battery. The prosecutor alleges that the defendant struck him in a tavern on Third avenue, without any cause or provocation. The defendant has another side to the story which will become apparent at the hearing this morning.

HENRY STROUP made information before Mayor Brush yesterday charging Jacob Miller with aggravated assault and battery. It seems the parties quarreled in Jacob's saloon on Saturday night, and during the melee Stroup was struck on the cheek and severely injured by some blunt instrument in the hands of Miller. They were arrested and Sunday morning Miller was fined ten dollars and costs, which he paid. He was subsequently arrested on the above information, but the case was settled on payment of costs and his release effected.

AN exciting runaway occurred on Sixth avenue yesterday. Mr. ——, of Hazelwood, was driving a team of two horses, attached to a light buggy down the avenue mentioned when the horses became frightened at a drove of hogs and ran off, taking the left sidewalk and keeping it until they reached Wood street. At this point the vehicle collided with a telegraph pole, and was demolished, the driver was thrown out, and the harness separated leaving the horses free. They ran to Liberty street, on to the sidewalk and getting at some barrels containing apples, &c., were captured. No other injury except that noted was done.

VAN KENNEDY, a young man charged with attempting to pass counterfeit money, had a hearing before Commissioner Gamble yesterday, and was committed for trial. The testimony showed that on the 20th of September he called at Mrs. Van Ulam's second-hand store, on Penn street, and offered a spurious ten dollar note on the Farmers and Manufacturers' National Bank of Poughkeepsie, N. Y. The old lady took the bill to a neighboring store to get it changed, and was told it was counterfeit. She informed Kennedy of this, and he left. Next day he offered a bill of the same bank, at the same store, when an effort was made to arrest him, and he fled. He was caught on Sunday night, and held for a hearing, with the result stated. He resided with a widowed mother on Twentieth street.

Public Amusements.

FIFTH AVENUE OPERA HOUSE.—An old Pittsburgh favorite in the person of Mr. E. T. Stetson, made his debut at this establishment last evening. We need scarcely announce that Mr. Stetson was cordially welcomed back to our city by a large and enthusiastic audience. The attraction of the evening was Foster's powerful sensational drama, "Neck and Neck," one of the best pieces of the kind now before the public. Mr. Stetson appeared as "Walter Wilmarth," the principal character, to great advantage. Mr. Metklf was excellent as the villain "Denman," while Hotto kept the audience in roars of laughter throughout. Mr. Edwards, Mr. Mitchell, Mrs. Meek, Mrs. Hotto, Miss Sandford, Mrs. Grattan and, in fact nearly the entire company performed their characters very acceptably. Mr. Weaver handled the prompter's whistle somewhat loosley, and succeeded admirably on several occasions in spoiling tableaux by "closing in" too soon. "Neck and Neck" will be repeated to-night.

On Monday evening next, Miss Augusta L. Dargon, (a lady well-known to our amusement goers, and who was a sufferer by the Chicago conflagration, will appear at the Fifth Avenue.

PITTSBURGH OPERA HOUSE.—Mr. L. P. Barrett had a very good audience last evening, when "Saratoga" was produced for the first time. The piece went off very creditably for the first representation, and seemed to meet the approval of all. It will be repeated to-night.

VARIETIES.—The performance given at the Varieties last night was witnessed by a large crowd. The new stars had a hearty reception, and are already sure of a place in the public favor. A fine bill to-night.

MASONIC HALL.—Unsworth's Minstrels, well-known here and elsewhere as a first-class organization, will appear at Masonic Hall to-night. The members are all fine performers, and excellent entertainments may be anticipated during their stay, which is for four nights only.

MANHOOD

In the Young and Rising Generation.

The vegetative powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show its baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence checking the development of the body. Consumption talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body, too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwards upon themselves.

If the patient be a female, the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety, as the first symptom in which Nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it fed on; the energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain; the parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness, arising from excesses or early indiscretion, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread, for Fear of Themselves; no Repose of Manner, no Earnestness, no Speculation, but a hurried Transition from one question to another.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on—which this Medicine invariably removes—soon follow Loss of Power, Fatuity, and Epileptic Fits, in one of which the patient may expire.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients; reason had for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The Records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths by Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibition appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute—neither Mirth or Grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur, it is rarely articulate.

"With woeful measures wan Despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguiled."

Whilst we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of Chemistry for the removal of the consequences.

FOR the TOILET.
Notwithstanding the fact that mixtures of every description purporting to be peculiarly adapted to the Hair, are to be found in almost every Drug Store and Grocery in the country, the want of an agreeable, cleanly, and healthful dressing for the Hair is evident. Nearly all the preparations in use are made from animal oils, and as a consequence they display a common feature,—they dry rapidly, are more or less gummy, and in time become rancid to offensiveness. This is especially true of the "Pomades" and "Washes" under fancy names, made from the rankest and filthiest of all the Animal Oils. Experience proves that Vegetable Oils meet every requirement for a Dressing for the Hair. They retain moisture for a greater length of time than Animal Oils. They are not injurious, and when used judiciously produce beneficial results. THE FLORAL OIL, prepared by Messrs. ABEL & CO., from Pure Vegetable Oil, possesses these properties in an eminent degree. It is at once one of the cheapest, most cleanly, healthful, and agreeable preparations, perfumed with rare odors, ever presented to the public. It will be found especially agreeable as an aid in dressing the hair of Children and Ladies. Promotes the growth of the Hair and imparts to it a rich lustre. No Toilet complete without it.
FLORAL OIL, PREPARED ONLY BY CHARLES ABEL & CO., PERFUMERS.
